Growing Church

Four new wings were recently added to Faith Lutheran Church on South Main Street. Pastor Dennis Kohl says the additions were necessary to serve a fast-growing community. But, he added, the building will probably have to expand in another 20 years.

Selectmen Opt For Eminent Domain Route For Champy Land

By Karen L. Day

The Andover Board of Selectmen Monday night refused to enter into a $4.8 million contingency purchase and sale agreement for the Champy parcel with owner Steven DeCrosta. In an unexpected action, the board instead voted 5-0 to begin eminent domain proceedings to obtain the land for affordable housing development.

In December of 1986, DeCrosta purchased the 53.7-acre site, along with an adjacent 16 acres just over the Lawrence boarder, for $3 million-plus, from Rose Champy. At the April 1987 Town Meeting, voters backed two articles giving the town authority to obtain the Andover Champy land and the abutting 13.67 acres, know as the Shetland parcel, owned by Brickstone Properties. These articles allowed acquisition of the land for affordable housing by gift, purchase or eminent domain.

According to Town Physical Planner Stephen Colyer, the town never intended to own the land itself. Plans were to have DeCrosta maintain ownership until the town completed its Request for Proposal (RFP). This would then be sent out to prospective developers of the site. When a suitable developer willing to work under the town's specifications was found, DeCrosta would sell the land to that developer.

Placement of the eminent domain clause in the article, said Colyer, was to be used only as a "doomsday weapon" if DeCrosta defaulted on his mortgage, which would result in transfer of ownership to yet another party, or if DeCrosta was unwilling to work with the town's RFP.

DeCrosta apparently requested the new agreement to protect himself from foreclosure on his mortgage. Under the agreement, DeCrosta would have received $4.8 million from the town in such a case, and would be able to pay off his debt. The town, in turn, would receive ownership of the parcel.

Rose Champy recently filed foreclosure papers on DeCrosta, but when her legal counsel, Atty. Howard Camuso was contacted, he said only that the case is "going to judgment soon....I cannot talk about this. My client's money is involved here."

When informed of the selectmen's vote for eminent domain, Camuso commented, "The town has a right to take it by eminent domain. The $4.8 million is something I am familiar with. DeCrosta owns the land, but he's in default of the mortgage" and thus, may not own the land for long.

DeCrosta's counsel, Atty. Tom Russell, could not be reached for comment on either the foreclosure proceedings or the eminent domain vote.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony stated he negotiated the DeCrosta proposal "to eliminate their ability to get rid of it (the land)." Transfer of ownership by any means could put the project behind schedule. Since there have been delays in the development of the RFP by the Andover Housing Partnership, said Mahony, the board wanted to move as quickly as possible to advance the affordable housing initiative. This proposal, he said, was just one of numerous options, including eminent domain.

After Mahony presented the DeCrosta proposal to the selectmen Monday night, and told the board DeCrosta hoped for a decision by Oct. 1, the board went into a 30-minute executive session. According to Selectman Gail Ralston, the executive session was necessary because it was the first the board had heard of the proposal. "We hadn't had a chance to discuss it," she said, adding they wanted to obtain details of the negotiations and final proposal.

When the board returned to public session, they cast a unanimous vote to begin eminent domain proceedings instead of entering into the DeCrosta agreement. According to Ralston, this proposal would put the land in town ownership for "a period of months," which was not the intention of the town meeting articles. She added that board members felt "uncomfortable with the price," because they would not have time to obtain official appraisals to "justify that amount ($4.8million)" to the taxpayers. Ralston added the board "didn't have enough time to understand the implications (of the proposal). There were too many questions" to be answered by DeCrosta's Oct. 1 deadline.

Ralston commended the efforts of the town manager who negotiated the proposal with DeCrosta. "I appreciate Mr. Mahony's efforts to negotiate something like this," she said, but the selectmen felt more comfortable proceeding with eminent domain at this juncture.

According to Colyer, once the town files papers for the eminent domain taking, the town owns the parcel. It is only later the town makes payment for the property. What percentage of the appraised value of the land is paid will be decided by the town at a later point, after two official appraisals are obtained. Mahoney has already requested that appraisals be made.

Mahony stated the land taking simply

Elected Chapter Vice President

William Melahn

F. Virgil C. Blum, S.J., national president and founder of the Catholic League for Religious and Civil Rights, announced the appointment of William Melahn as vice president of the league's Massachusetts Chapter.

Melahn is a practicing attorney with a law office in Boston. He is a graduate of Fairfield University and St. John's University Law School. Melahn is a resident of Andover where he teaches CCD for St. Augustine's parish. He is a member of the Knight's of Columbus, Andover Council, and of the Lawrence Hibernians.

Melahn has long been an active member of the Catholic League for Religious and Civil Rights, America's oldest and largest Catholic anti-defamation, anti-discrimination organization. He has been one of the state's leading spokesmen on the issues of anti-Catholic discrimination and the civil rights of Catholic school children. Melahn has appeared in forums to debate the issues on the Question 1 and Question 2 referendum campaigns in 1986. He is currently representing a group of parochial school parents in a suit brought by the ACLU to take away their legal rights to transport their children to private schools.

Recycling Officers Elected

Tina Girdwood was elected president of Andover Recycling at the annual meeting. Other officers continued for a second year: Virginia Cole, vice president and publicity; Susan Dennet, secretary; Barbara Swift, treasurer; Kay Pendleton, corresponding secretary. Ileen Conn is in charge of the glass program. Cynthia Hollenbeck is in charge of education for adults and children.

The board of directors include the above and Jean Dana, Leslie Frost, Peggy Hutchins, Fricka Leistikow, Alice Pincus, Margaret Pustell, Sandy Stark, Nancy Zollner, Jeanette Barron, Fran Fink.

Interested citizens are always welcome at the board meetings which are held on the third Tuesday of the month. A call to any of the officers is welcome.

Voucher Program Available

The Andover Housing Authority has been actively participating in the new Section 8 Voucher Program. This program allows the elderly and families to have their rent subsidized in their present apartment or another apartment of their choice in Andover.

Families, disabled or handicapped individuals or elderly persons 62 years of age or older should contact the AHA office for income eligibility. Andover residents will be given preference. The estimated waiting time is currently six months to a year.

Applications will be accepted for one, two and three bedrooms categories. Anyone interested should visit the office at 100 Morton St., Andover.

Student Registration For PSAT/NMSQT

The attendance office at Andover High School is accepting registration of sophomores, juniors and seniors for the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test and registration of juniors for the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

Registration may be made Monday through Friday periods 5 and 7 or after school until 2:30 p.m. in the attendance office and period 6 at the switchboard in the main office. No registrations will be accepted after Friday, Oct. 9. The cost of the exam is payable by check at registration. A "student bulletin" which contains a sample test and answer key will be given to students when they register. The check should be made payable to Andover High School.

This test is given to understand the contents of the Scholastic Aptitude Tests; to estimate a student's chance of getting into and succeeding at the college of choice; to enter the competition for scholarships awarded through the National Merit Scholarship Program and to participate in the Student Search Service and to send the names of students, if the student indicates, to the colleges looking for students of particular ability.

The test is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 17, from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. All registered students should report no later than 8:30 a.m.

Bancroft Fun Run Is Oct. 18

The selectmen gave permission to the Bancroft School PTO to hold a "Fun Run" road race on Sunday, Oct. 18. The race will start at Bancroft school at 1 p.m.

Christmas Parade To Be Nov. 29

The selectmen okayed the Andover Firefighters Christmas Parade, which will be held on Sunday, Nov.

29. This will be the 32nd annual downtown holiday celebration.

Symphony Bus To Resume

The Andover symphony bus will depart from a new location when it resumes service to Boston on Friday, Oct. 2. Because of construction on Salem Street, the bus will leave from the corner of Phillips and Main Streets. Parking is available on both side of Phillips Street.

Sponsored by members of the Boston Symphony Association of Volunteers, the bus takes local subscribers and music lovers to the Friday afternoon concerts of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The bus leaves Andover at 10 a.m. Stops in Boston are made at the corner of Arlington and Boylston Streets, Coppley Place, Prudential Center, Symphony Hall and the Museum of Fine Arts. The concerts begin at 2 p.m., usually finish about 4 p.m. and the bus leaves Symphony Hall 10 minutes after the concert and returns directly to Andover. Concert tickets are not provided, but can usually be ordered in advance from the box office or purchased the day of the concert. Information about the bus may be obtained from Mrs. Hart Leavitt, Mrs. John Merrill or Mrs. Alexander Warren.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

In the old days, pioneer women gave birth in the morning and plowed the field in the afternoon. If, so, they must have been exhausted by evening. Bearing and caring for a baby are fatiguing activities. During these early weeks after your baby is born, take advantage of every opportunity to rest. Keep strenuous work to a minimum. Take naps when you can, because it may be difficult to get eight hours of uninterrupted sleep at night. Family finances may dictate when you return to work outside the home, of course. There's plenty of time to return to that rigorous life of activity.

Is there a baby due in your family or one already living there? Come to TINY TOTLAND where you will find a complete selection of furniture, carriages, mattresses, wall decor, lamps, accessories and toys. We have toys for all ages... "heaven to seven". To Honor Volunteers At UF Dinner

The Merrimack Valley United Fund will officially kick-off their 1987-88 employee campaign with their 17th annual "Dutch Treat" dinner Tuesday, Oct. 6, at 6:30 p.m. in the Central Catholic High School auditorium. The fund's past 16 general campaign chairmen will be honored. Under the leadership of these volunteers, more than $57 million was raised since 1971.

The Merrimack Valley United Fund declined to join United Ways of Eastern New England and residents employed outside the valley area should ask their employer to designate their contribution to the Merrimack Valley United Fund. With 65 member agencies, the United Fund provided vital human services to more than 188,000 local people in 1986, an increase of 10 percent over 1985, with 13,218 of those individuals residing in southern New Hampshire. 92.9 cents of every dollar contributed goes directly to the member agencies for services.

"Today, modern problems appeal to our continuing investment in the Merrimack Valley United Fund in order to keep up with the increasing demands for its services," said Glen A. Grubbs, president of A-Line tools in Lawrence and the general campaign chairman this year. "There are critical needs among people in our communities that must be met. Increasing necessities for our growing population of elderly including more demand for hospice care, with more working mothers and single-parent families, needs for child care increase and greater need for emergency shelters are just a few of the most pressing demands that require people willing to reach out and help with their time and contributions to elicit the necessary changes."

Four women's crisis centers, several area suicide prevention hotlines and resource centers and a 66 percent increase in family counseling services since 1985 are just some of the growing services supported by the fund. "That's why this year's campaign is especially vital," Grubbs said, "We are giving to what the United Fund does for this community."

Recycling Saved $18,000

By Virginia Cole

Andover Recycling Inc. saved the town $18,000 over June, July and August. For those unclear about how this happens, let me remind you that the town is now paying on an average of at least $60 per ton for every ton of trash dumped at the North Andover incinerator.

Andover Recycling picked up and sold roughly 300 tons of newspapers during those three months so the math is fairly easy to do. That trash was not dumped and not paid for by the town. Instead it was sold and the money received by Andover Recycling went to pay for the contractor who does the pick up. Of course, the material was also reused providing more savings down the line.

At the organization's annual meeting held recently, it was noted that paper collection had increased over all previous years; 1,207.82 tons were collected for June 1986 through June 1987. The contractor still has room for more paper in this every-other-week pick up in front of your house.

If you are concerned with the mounting trash problems in the nation and in your community, recycling is a part of the answer. In Andover it is easy: bag or tie your newspapers, magazines, junk mail and cardboard and put in front of your house on the opposite side of your drive way on regular trash day, every other week. Calendars listing the pick-up weeks are available at the veterans office at Town Hall.

Open House At Academy Sunday

Phillips Academy will host its second annual Day Student Day, an open house for prospective day students and their families, on Sunday, Oct. 4, beginning at 2 p.m. in the Abbot Wing of the Borden Gymnasium. Local students and their families will act as co-hosts with PA's admission office, greeting the more than 200 guests expected.

Headmaster Donald McNemar will be joined by Dean of Admission Jeannie F. Disette in welcoming residents of the five communities surrounding the academy eligible to send students as day enrollees to the nation's oldest boarding school. The towns include Andover, Lawrence, Methuen, North Andover and North Reading. This year they are ending 247 students, or 20 percent of the student body, to PA.

The program will continue with two panels: one made up of academy faculty and the other including administrators, parents and students speaking and answering questions on admission, financial aid, academics, special programs and exchanges, athletics, social and logistical issues.

Light food and soft drinks will be served at an informal reception. The program is co-sponsored by the Phillips Academy Admission Office and the Merrimack Valley Andover/Abbot Association.

Montessori Begins 12th Year

Andover School of Montessori, 180 Main St., North Andover, recently opened its doors to children from Andover, North Andover and surrounding communities at the start of its 12th year as a non-sectarian, parent-run, preschool and kindergarten.

Returning teachers Susan Flynn, Cynthia Genier, Margaret Gurman, Miriam Walsh, Judith O'Neil, Sarah Spurgeon and Laurie Taylor greeted children from as far away as Salem and Londonderry, N.H. Currently enrolled from Andover are Matthew Rose, Jonathan Toland, Rachelle Dennis, Georgie Miliotis, Nicholas Petrucci, Matthew Rotman, Andrew Spiller, Tehmina Beg, Nima Ashkebousi, Nicholas Brown, Cynthia Cohen, Laura Goldstein, Mark Outwin, Melissa Carroll, Michael Depino, Rachel Sebell, Matthew Wojtkun, Richard LaFranchi, Anthony Bond, Kyle Salembier, Hiroyuki Toyoda, Peter Groff, Matthew Broude, Paul Davison, Peter Jones, Brian O'Neil and Emma Roszko.

ASM offers a three-year traditional Montessori program five mornings a week for children ages 2 years, 9 months to 6 years. The Montessori concept emphasizes education as a natural process which develops spontaneously in the child, rather than a process which is taught in a structured, typical classroom setting. The child is allowed to grow at his/her own rate and work in areas which most interest him/her. The ultimate goal at ASM is not to rush preschoolers headlong into reading and writing. The objective is to help the child develop his own personality, independent of others. As the child becomes involved with the specially-created Montessori environment and actively works with the Montessori learning materials, self discipline grows, the child learns to respect himself and others, builds self-confidence, approaches daily activities in a calm manner and develops a sense of order, concentration and love of work.

ASM also offers an extended day program to 2:30 p.m., a certified kindergarten program for its children five years and older. This program provides the opportunity to work with a Montessori trained teacher on individual and small group activities of special interest to this age level in preparation for first grade. Afternoon care to 2:30 p.m. is also available five days a week for the younger ones.

The staff has begun preparation for two workshops on the Montessori method and applications in the home. The workshops are scheduled for the evenings of October 15 and November 16.

While limited spaces are available for the current school year, ASM is accepting applications on a first-come, first-serve basis for the 1988-89 school year when the school will be completing its final year of expansion to its licensed capacity of 75 students. For more enrollment information and appointments to observe, contact Robin Johansen, administrator.

Carr Heads Cable TV Division

Bob Carr of Andover has been named president and general manager of Heritage Cablevision of northern Massachusetts, it was announced by James Cownie, president of Heritage Communications, Inc. of Des Moines, the parent company of the local cable television service.

"We are proud of the work of the Heritage team in northern Massachusetts under the leadership of Bob Carr," Cownie said, adding "this new status for Bob is recognition of his important role in the Andover area."

Cownie noted that cable is the source of televised information and entertainment in half of all American homes and that more viewers are watching original cable programming very year. He also noted that recently completed subscriber surveys showed that people in the Andover area were "very pleased" with the level of service they receive from Heritage Cablevision.

Heritage is the tenth largest cable operation in the United States, serving just over one million homes in 300 communities.

Dawn M. Lebreck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Micheal J. Lebreck of Andover, was among the 145 freshmen students who enrolled at Colby-Sawyer College this past weekend. The college, now celebrating its Sesquicentennial Anniversary, welcomed a student body of 450 for the 1987-88 academic year.

Swimming Program Offered

Swimming is one of the best therapeutic exercises for people with disabilities. The Massachusetts Easter Seal Society is offering a nine-week swim program at Phillips Academy for preschool children on Wednesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. October 7 through December 2.

The classes are designed to help swimmers increase confidence in the water while having fun. Diane Sheehan of North Andover, a certified water safety instructor, is conducting the classes assisted by volunteers. Parents are asked to assist infants and preschoolers in the water. Volunteers assist swimmers on a one-to-one basis and are invaluable in maintaining the safety of the program.

For further information about the swim program or becoming an Easter Seal volunteer, contact Christine Lucey of the Massachusetts Easter Seal Society, 5 Ballard Way, Lawrence.

Support Group Conference Set

Massachusetts' first state-wide conference for self-help support groups will take place Saturday, Oct. 17, at in Merrimack College's Gildea Hall from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

"Making Mutual Help Work: A Skills Building Conference" is the program's theme, designed for members of mutual support groups. The conference is co-sponsored by Merrimack College's Office of Special Programs and the University of Massachusetts' Cooperative Extension.

"The growth of mutual support groups has been a phenomenon of the past decade," explained Dr. Anne Arsenault, Merrimack's director of special programs. "People helping each other by sharing experiences has become important to women's health, to those addicted, to those grieving losses, to parents and families and to all people going through crises in their lives. This conference will give members of groups and those wishing to join one a chance to meet and share information."

Frank Riessman, director of the National Self-Help Clearinghouse, will discuss the life-cycle of mutual help groups and Edward Madara, director of the New Jersey Self-Help Clearinghouse, will explain the role and services offered to support groups by a state-wide clearinghouse.

Participants will be able to attend workshops on organizing a support group and self-help services (such as a hotline), how to obtain needed funding and resources for such a group, collaborating with professional counselors and the skills needed to be a citizen-advocate for support and self-help groups.

Time will be allocated for "networking" by members of different support groups organized around such issues as addictions, bereavement, medical disabilities, mental illness, parenting, separation and divorce and domestic violence.

For further information, contact the Office of Special Programs, Merrimack College, North Andover.

Andover Women In Race

Frances Booth and Susan DeBenedictis of Andover will be among the more than 6,000 women from all over the United States expected to participate in the 11th annual Tufts Health Plan 10K for Women being held on Columbus Day, Oct. 12.

The Tufts 10K for Women, co-sponsored by the YMCAs of Eastern Massachusetts, is one of the largest road races of this kind in the country. Entrants from 11 to 86 years old and from all walks of life come together to share the warmth and camaraderie of this special event.

In addition to the $15,000 in prize money, specially designed age group awards will be awarded to the first five finishers in seven age divisions.

Mixed Emotions About New Attendance Policy

By Hallie Keene
Senior, Andover High School

The 1987-88 school year has brought a new attendance policy to Andover High School which has produced mixed emotions among students.

This new policy was devised to reduce the 30,000+ absences, dismissals and tardies that occurred last year. It has been deemed unfair by many students. Patrick Duffy, a junior, claims, "Innocent people are going to suffer because of the few who took advantage of the lenient attendance policy last year."

A solution to the absenteeism of high school students is a serious concern for all community members, but the proposed policy leaves little room for unusual circumstances. The policy allows five undocumented absences a term. Documented excuses would be a doctor's note, a death in the immediate family or a religious holiday. The catch, however, is that if a student takes more than five undocumented absences in a term, the student receives only 50 percent credit in all courses missed. For example, a student has a chance to travel abroad for six days during term two. What then? Flunk the student for taking advantage of a once-in-a-lifetime chance to have a hands-on experience in a foreign culture? Isn't that a learning experience in itself?

The absentee section is just one part of the new plan. The new dismissal policy allows a student to get dismissed if and only if he or she has a medical, dental or Registry of Motor Vehicles appointment. To be considered for the privilege of dismissal, you must submit your request 24 hours in advance. The school then spends the taxpayers' money verifying that, yes, so and so really does have a root canal scheduled and is not just going home to catch a "Brady Bunch" rerun.

Lisa Herrmann, a senior and employee of a local medical facility, feels, "The time to verify appointments for students is valuable time taken away from someone who needs our immediate care. Also, time is money and not everyone will be able to afford a doctor's visit to get a

Residents Invited To Join Chorus

The department of fine arts at Merrimack College has begun organizing a new college-community chorus.

Dr. David Sears, assistant professor of fine arts, is the director. Area residents, students, faculty and staff at Merrimack are invited to join "in singing some of the finest choral music," Sears said. "Neither the ability to read music nor a great voice are required."

The group's first work will be Schubert's Mass in G Major with works by Hanson and Chadwick to follow.

Rehearsals are held at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the media center classroom in McQuade Library.

For further information, call Merrimack College Department of Fine Arts.

The most popular form of the card game bridge was thought up by the yachtsman and railroad financier Harold Stirling Vanderbilt on a cruise from Los Angeles to Havana in the mid-1920s.

note. I feel the administration neglected to take this into consideration."

The tardy policy states that students who are late before 8 o'clock must have a note and students late after 8 o'clock must have a parent call to explain or accompany them to school. Steffi Schulz states, "I'm a senior now, so it should be my responsibility to get myself out of bed, not my parents'." What happens if a student has car trouble on the way to school and cannot get in touch with either parent? It's a great plan for kids whose parents are home in the morning. But, when both parents are out of the house and unreachable, the student must then sit in the attendance office until a parent can be reached. If the student is in school, it would seem only sensible to let him attend class, having a parent call sometime during that day.

In contrast with the above comments, some parents and members of the administration feel that the new policy will be a great success. "This system is much better than last year's because it makes it a real hassle to take a day off, if that is what you are planning to do. It also reduces the number of classroom disruptions as the teacher will not have to slow down for absent students," states Greg MacLean, a concerned parent.

Mr. Hixon, assistant principal, feels that the new attendance policy is a needed step towards academic excellence. He thinks that it is the school's responsibility to educate a student to the fullest extent. His goal has always been to make Andover High School stand apart as the best high school in the area. In order to do so, he stresses the importance of lowering the total number of absences that prevailed last year. In the 1986-87 school year, 1,146 students attended Andover High, resulting in 13,236 absences, 10,908 tardies and 6,172 dismissals. Last year's policy required notes for all of the above. That meant that the staff had to verify and file a total of 30,316 notes. Mr. Hixon believes that although the new policy creates a great deal of work for the staff, it is a necessary tactic in trying to recapture the 96 percent success rate from former years of students' attending school. He also voiced his concern about and dislike of "instant analysis." This is a term he used to describe people who jump in and give their opinions before they have a chance to see results. In other words, he would like to see people give the policy time to make a difference before criticizing it.

The fact still remains that it is a controversial issue.

Chamber Schedules Job Fair

The Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce is cosponsoring the Opportunity For All Job Fair at the Cedardale Health Club, 931 Boston Road, Haverhill, on Tuesday, Nov. 10, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. The fair is designed to help Merrimack Valley businesses recruit qualified personnel at a reasonable cost.

Nearly 10,000 job seekers attended the two previous Opportunity For All Job Fairs and more than 1,000 job openings were filled. This year 130 employers are expected to participate and several thousand people will be on hand to apply for positions. Applicants will be seeking full and part-time managerial, professional, skilled, semi-skilled, unskilled and trainee situations.

To attract job candidates, Greater Boston and area newspapers will be used, as well as radio and cable TV spots on this area's most popular stations. Additional advertising will be done through public service announcements, the distribution of posters and leaflets, a direct mail campaign and the use of referral resources such as colleges, high schools and community-based agencies.

Other cosponsors of the job fair are the Essex North Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Greater Haverhill Chamber of Commerce, Lower Merrimack Valley Private Industry Council, Community Action of Haverhill, Massachusetts Division of Employment Security and the Massachusetts Department of Public Welfare.

The free 32-page booklet, "AT&T Consumer Guide," contains helpful calling tips, money-saving ideas, toll-free numbers, information on home phone repairs, reaching operators, international calling, selecting computers and electronic typewriters and much more.

The booklet also includes a special section on available resources for people with hearing, speech, vision or motion impairments.

A pain in the neck can make you a "pain in the neck!"

If you're feeling irritable and argumentative, if you snap at someone and later wonder why, it could be caused by that slight pain you feel in your neck — it's the sign of a pinched nerve. Feelings of irritability, depression and being tired, even after a good night's sleep, can also be traced to a pinched nerve. This condition is treated daily by chiropractic. Left untreated, you may suffer from headaches, shoulder pains, arm pains, and an overall lack of energy. If you are experiencing any of these symptoms, I urge you to have a chiropractic examination.

To encourage you to do this (and to improve your disposition) please take advantage of this offer

SPINAL EXAMINATION

Only $20.00

A full spinal examination could cost you $40.00 and more, but now you can save $20.00 and still receive an orthopedic test, a neurological test, and of course, a private consultation with a doctor to discuss the results. Because chiropractic is recognized by most insurance companies, your treatment may be at little or no cost to you in accordance with your insurance policy's provisions. Named One Of Leading Companies

The Boston-based consulting firm founded and directed by Peter B. Olney, Jr. of Andover, president, has been named one of the 100 leading management development firms in the United States by "Consultants News" of Fitzwilliam, N.H., monthly newsletter serving the profession.

Olney Associates Inc., 15 Broad St., Boston, was founded in 1966 and offers a wide range of services, including organization analysis, management development, position analysis and evaluation, compensation programs, benefits studies and supervisory training. The firm, with a branch office in Farmington, Ct., now serves approximately 350 clients, including hospitals, banks, colleges, municipalities and private industry.

The "100 leading" list, prepared periodically by "Consultants News," is based on reputation, longevity, professional involvement and trend, according to James H. Kennedy, publisher. He indicated that "there are thousands of consulting firms operating in the United States and inclusion on this special list is considered by many to be a distinct honor." Olney stated that "since we are a relatively small company with ten senior staff members, this recognition is of special significance to Olney Associates."

Olney received his bachelor's degree in government from Harvard College in 1949 and his master's degree in social studies from Boston University in 1951. He worked in industrial relations with Allied Chemical, Avco and U.S.M. corporations from 1953 through 1964. He also served as senior staff associate with Frank C. Brown Company from 1964 to 1966 and has written articles on manager development, employee performance review and comparable worth.

Lots of ice cream was served last Tuesday as some 500 parents and children attended Sanborn School's ice cream social. Members of the Parent-Teacher Organization, along with some fifth-grade students, served the ice cream. Proceeds went to the students' activity fund and for a fifth-grade bus trip. Above, 2-year-old Katie Camillus, daughter of Joseph and Mary Jo Camillus, got more ice cream on her face than she does in her mouth. At right, Sanborn first-grade teacher Gloria Gioseffi of North Andover scoops ice cream.

Club's Past President Addresses Gardeners

Andover Garden Club will begin its 60th year when it meets October 6 at 12:30 p.m. at the Unitarian Universalist Church at 6 Locke St.

The program will begin with a social hour. Mrs. Robert H. Lange, the club's immediate past president, will show slides of her recent trip to Thailand and Burma, followed by a demonstration of flower arrangements with the focus on the arranging techniques practiced in those countries. Her presentation will include the use of artifacts she brought back from both countries.

Lange, noted flower arranger and sculptor, has won many prizes for her arrangements, including being named a flower arranger of the year by the National Council of State Garden Clubs.

Mrs. George G. Monks, Jr. will do a seasonal arrangement for the tea table.

Mrs. Ralph H. Hill and Mrs. Thomas Simmons, Jr., past presidents of the club, will be pourers. Mrs. John F. Battles, club president, is the meeting chairman.

Woman's Club Meets Monday

The Shawsheen Village Woman's Club will hold their first meeting of the year on Monday, Oct. 5, at 7:30 p.m. at the Lawrence Savings Bank in Shawsheen Village.

"Boston by Slides," headquartered in Boston, a handsomely photographed slide lecture, will be personally narrated by guides from "Boston by Foot."

The Four Shapes of Boston traces the history of Boston's topography and architecture from 1630 to the present.

The presentation was originally funded by a grant from the Mobil Foundation.

Mrs. William Ammon and Mrs. Frank Bayliss are hostess chairmen.

La Leche

Successful breastfeeding often begins with a happy childbirth experience. Many options are open to parents in the family centered maternity programs in hospitals. How will the arrival of a new baby affect the relationship of a couple or a family? These topics will be explored this month when the Andover/North Andover Group and the Greater Lawrence group of La Leche League of Massachusetts meet to discuss "Baby Arrives: The Family and the Breastfed Baby." Women of Andover, North Andover, Lawrence and surrounding towns are invited to attend on Thursday, Oct. 8, at the home of Sherry Klutzow, 10 Andover Terrace, Lawrence, at 8 p.m. and on Thursday, Oct. 15, at the home of Pam Santiago, 35½ Arnold St., Methuen, at 9:30 a.m.

These meetings are the second in a series of four monthly meetings open to nursing mothers and their babies, pregnant and other interested women. The discussion is informal, with opportunity to ask questions and share experiences. Each group maintains a lending library of books on breastfeeding, childbirth and child care. La Leche League may be called at any time for immediate help, encouragement and practical suggestions regarding breastfeeding or to obtain the manual "The Womanly Art of Breastfeeding."

For directions and further information, call group leaders Cyndi Givens, Lauri Brown or Corliss Paolino in Andover or Maureen Lyons in North Andover.

Completes Studies Program

Andover High School student Jose Guerra is returning for his senior year after spending six weeks at the Massachusetts Advanced Studies Program. Guerra, son of Angelino and Zenaida Guerra of 26 Juliette St., was chosen from among more than 400 nominees to attend this state-wide program which is open to outstanding public and parochial school juniors. Held each summer on the campus of Milton Academy, MASP allows student the opportunity for intensive college-level study with college guidance, financial aid planning, college visiting, sports and recreational and cultural activities. Grants from banks, corporations and philanthropies throughout the Commonwealth make it possible for any student selected to attend, regardless of financial need.

School nominations to the program from this year's junior class will be made in January. Information is available from school guidance offices or the MASP office at Milton Academy, Milton 02186.

Halloween, Cider Featured

By Virginia Lopez Begg

Halloween stories and old fashioned cider pressing are two of the traditional fall activities on tap at the Andover Historical Society's Family Festival Sunday, Oct. 4, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Part of the society's monthly First Sunday Series, the festival includes hands-on activities for all ages. The barn museum will be open and children and adults will enjoy trying out bookmaking and binding and reproduction wooden toys as well as viewing tools and equipment of Andover's farmers, tradesmen and homemakers.

A special treat will be Judith Witters, a professional "teller of tales, myths and legends." A Vermont resident, Witters learned her craft in Scotland and at Leslie College. She will weave tales set in autumn, including a magical Celtic story of All Hallows' Eve.

What would fall in New England be without apples and cider? Visitors can help make this traditional beverage with local resident Peter O'Leary on an old-fashioned cider press. Early New Englanders stored cider and drank the fermented liquid all through the year. Fresh cider was known as "must" and was only enjoyed at the cider mill.

The Amos Blanchard House, home of the Andover Historical Society, will be open for tours during the Family Festival. Visitors can view the house, restored to the era of the Blanchards and their children in the 1820s.

The Family Festival is only one of many activities planned so that local residents can enjoy the assets of the Andover Historical Society. The society, known for its activities and valued holdings, is one of only three such societies in Massachusetts accredited by the American Association of Museums.

The Metropolitan District Commission's Reservations and Interpretive Services Unit has planned an exciting fall lineup of free, outdoor programs at the Quincy Quarries Historic Site for people of all ages to enjoy this fall. These programs and special events are designed to bring this historic site to life.

The Quincy Quarries have supplied granite to the nation for well over a century. Evidence of this once thriving industry can be found all over Quincy. Take a three-hour walk with a Metroparks Guide Sunday, Oct. 3, starting at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., to explore the granite architecture in downtown Quincy and learn about present-day stone workers.

Participants should meet at the Quincy Historical Society, 8 Adams St.

Rierner Appointed At ULowell

Robert F. Rierner of 5 Lansbury Lane, Andover, was recently appointed systems analyst at the University of Lowell by the ULowell board of trustees.

Rierner, who most recently worked for Emhart Corp. in Farmington, Conn., earned bachelor's and master's degrees in mechanical engineering at Northeastern University.

Rierner served in the U.S. Peace Corp, training newly arrived volunteers in Liberia from 1971 to 1975 to teach mathematics and science.

David B. Eckoff

Appointed Alumni Representative

The University of Massachusetts at Amherst announced that David B. Eckoff will volunteer as an alumni admissions representative.

He will be available to meet with high school students and their parents and answer questions about the university. Those interested in meeting with Eckoff may contact him at his Andover address.

Eckoff graduated cum laude from the University of Massachusetts/Amherst in 1987 and is employed in Raytheon Company's financial management development program.

Jan came to us for a pregnancy test.

Everyone got positive results.

Jan found out she was having a baby and mentioned us to her mother.

Her mother came to us for the mammography screening that her physician recommended she have.

And her grandmother came in to lose weight.

That's how word spreads about A Woman's Healthcare Center at Lawrence General, and our healthcare services for women of all ages.

We'll help you stop smoking. Lose weight and improve nutrition. Deal with daily stress, PMS and menopause.

We work with your physician to give you quick, accurate results from our pregnancy and osteoporosis tests, and our new, low radiation mammography.

Plus, more women choose us for OB/GYN than any other hospital in the area. And our maternity services offer everything from birthing room options to prepared childbirth and infant care classes.

We even help women over 65 understand their own unique healthcare needs.

Women take more responsibility for their health these days. And when they find sound, supportive women's healthcare, they tell the other women in the family.

Training Sessions

"Libraries today hold a wealth of information and the computer is the key to opening the door to that information," states Nancy C. Jacobson, director of Memorial Hall Library, Andover.

Memorial Hall Library announced on February 1, 1984, that its card catalog would be closed and up-to-date information on the library's holdings would be available through the public access computer terminals. Even though the new system is more cost effective than the card catalog, it also provides much better services for the patron in terms of locating materials in house or in other area libraries, recycling reserved books, providing instant availability status and allowing the information and referral files to be accessible to the public. "Most patrons who take the time to learn the procedure are delighted with it," Jacobson says.

The touch terminals unveiled in 1984 have been augmented by new keyboard models which are easy to use to find specific titles and authors. Searching for subject areas is proving to be more difficult and professional assistance by the reference librarian is often required.

Volunteers from the Friends of the Library periodically assist the staff in demonstrating the computer's capabilities. The library will have extra staff and volunteers on hand Wednesday evening, Oct. 14, and Saturday morning, Oct. 17, to assist in the use of the terminals. "We really want people to make use of the new equipment and in so doing discover the great advantages of on-line searching," Jacobson says.

The following is a report of the activities of the Andover Fire Department from September 22-28:

September 22 - 15 Johnson Road, T. Saling, accidental alarm; 95 Sunset Rock Road, R. Moody, accidental alarm; Off York Street, Andover Mills, broken sprinkler head; 15 Stevens St., Wood Ayer Realty, accidental alarm; Old River Road, I-93 Building, accidental alarm.

September 23 - Merrimack College, Monican Center, alarm trouble; Off Bartlet Street, Doherty Junior High School, alarm trouble; 16 Balmoral St., Balmoral Condos, alarm trouble.

September 24 - Off Shattuck Road, G.C.A. Corp., accidental alarm; 311 Lowell St., Sheraton Rolling Green, sprinkler problem.

September 25 - Off Chapel Avenue, Andover Inn, oil burner problem; Off Bartlet Street, Doherty Junior High School, stove fire; Route 93, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, flammable liquid spill.

September 26 - 56 Poor St., J. Padley, investigation; Elm Street at High Street, accidental alarm.

September 27 - Off Osgood Street, Handicapped Center, false alarm; Stowe

Court, Andover Housing Authority, accidental alarm; 19 Chestnut St., Andover Housing Authority, medical assist; 29 Maple Avenue, medical assist.

The fire department ambulance responded to 25 calls during this same period.

The U.S. Postal Service is accepting applications for the examination for future rural carrier and rural carrier associate vacancies in the 018 and 019 zip code areas.

Applicants will be notified of the date, time and place of the examination.

Kitchen Design

PULL-OUT STORAGE

One of the best ways of maximizing the use of space in a kitchen is to use cabinet interior fittings which pull out on runners. Although more expensive than simple cabinets with shelves, pull-out interiors enable a person to store twice as much in the same space. This is because not an inch is wasted in allowing for access. Even if there is room for extra cabinets, pull-out storage is more economical as long as the right fittings are chosen. Simply asking for a range of pull-out baskets and roll-out shelves is not the answer. Extra storage can only be gained if the fittings are specifically suited to what will be stored in them. This makes it necessary for a family to review its storage needs before meeting with a kitchen designer. When it comes to knowing cabinets there's no better place than WINDSOR KITCHENS. We have quality wood cabinets to suit your specific needs, plus that have custom features built right in. We can assist you in design problems and help you plan your entire kitchen. Whatever features appeal to you we can fit it in to your remodeling. We also offer delivery. Let us "pull" you through your kitchen renovation. We're at 1101 Boston Rd., Ward Hill. Wed. 9-6, Thursday 9 to 5:30, Friday 9 to 5:30, Saturday 10 to 2, Sun., Mon., Tues., closed or by appointment. Tel. 372-3444.

THE SOCIAL SIDE

THE TOWNSMAN, OCTOBER 1, 1987

Just A Thought

By Bob Finneran

The fifth anniversary of the opening of the Collins Center for the Performing Arts proved a couple of things, first and foremost that the Andover Endowment For The Arts and the facility they oversee, like good wine, get better with age.

Secondly, and probably more importantly, Sunday night's opener proved that repetition does not detract from quality and enjoyment, as the Boston Pops Esplanade Orchestra made a return engagement under the able baton of Harry Ellis Dickson and absolutely captivated a capacity audience as it did that opening night five years ago.

There was, of course, something missing from that opening night - the magnetic appearance of the late J. Everett Collins to whom the building is dedicated and who five years ago cut the ribbon opening the center, and was brought center stage by Dickson at the conclusion of the Pops concert that night. 'This has put a charge in my day,' Collins exclaimed as he acknowledged a standing ovation.

His memory will be preserved, however, through the generosity of the Collins family who presented to the center a montage of photos showing J. Everett in his various musical pursuits which brought enjoyment to thousands of residents over the more than half decade of his artistic direction and vocal presentations at all levels.

Robert M. Henderson, president of Andover Bank, extended greetings at the opening of the program on behalf of his financial institution which supported the opening performance.

Dickson and the Pops then took command for the remainder of the almost two-hour presentation. There was a even a local touch, if you will, with the playing of 'Overture to Candide' by Leonard Bernstein, a Lawrence native and who was mentioned by Dickson as one of our own.

The well-received program, which opened with 'Entrance of the Guests from Tannhauser', and was interspersed with Richard Rodgers waltzes, 'Strike Up The Band' and 'Rhapsody in Blue,' with a splendid performance by Benjamin Pasternak as soloist, other Gershwin numbers, a couple of Leroy Anderson arrangements and a conclusion of 'Sing, Sing, Sing,' with drummer Fred Buda, displaying his ever-present love for his work.

A standing ovation brought Dickson back for an encore, 'Mac The Knife,' but before setting the musical aggregation in motion, paused to compliment the planning of the Collins Center, noting that he and the group have played in many auditoriums throughout the country and found the Andover facility to be just great acoustically and in design.

The finale was the traditional Pops favorite, Stars and Stripes Forever, which had the audience clapping accompaniment and finally another standing ovation for the director and the band.

The concert was followed by a reception at the Andover Inn hosted by the Bank and to which Dickson and soloist Benjamin Pasternak attended and visited with the many people on hand.

Dickson is a most affable person greeting all who came his way and pausing to visit with many of those in attendance.

John Schuman, one of the managing directors of the center, introduced me to Dickson, indicating I was editor of our local newspaper, to which the director promptly responded, 'I guess I better watch what I say.'

He admitted to a sort of quasi-retirement, stating that he still did the Pops, the Boston Youth Symphony and directed his classical orchestra, as well as making guest appearances throughout the country. 'Guess I'll keep going 'til I drop,' he said.

After greetings from Bob Henderson and wife, Barbara, Dickson was extended appreciation by Henderson's son, Robert A. and wife Louise. The younger bank officer, could not conceal from the Pops director, a cast applied to his wrist gained from recent basketball attempts.

Then, despite a long evening, the director made the rounds at the Inn, greeting such people as West Junior High Principal William E. Hart and wife, Alice, Andover Endowment For the Arts President Gerry Cohen and Annette, endowment director Jared S.A. Clark and Marge, Vin and Lynda Cottone, the latter bank treasurer, stopped to sit and chat with Bob and Muriel Finlayson and Bob and Joyce Phinney, Bunny Maren and several others who enjoyed hors doeuvres and refreshments which capped off a most enjoyable evening of what promises to be another gala season for one of Andover's finest assets- -the Collins Center.

Before the Pops concert, the Collins' family donated a montage of photographs of the late J. Everett Collins, for whom the center is named. Left to right is the photographer, Richard Garber, Roger W. Collins, J. Everett's son, Nancy Collins, his granddaughter, and Jared S.A. Clark, president and chairman of the Andover Endowment of the Arts.

Members of the Andona Society, at left, meet last week to finalize plans for the society's 35th anniversary ball, which will be held Nov. 6 at the Sheraton Rolling Green.

Faith Lutheran Church Expands

Sign Of A Growing Community

By Melissa M. De Meo

Faith Lutheran Church Pastor Dennis Kohl enjoys his new office, part of a $350,000 expansion project recently dedicated by the congregation. At top, a view of the church's new altar space. The ceiling was beveled for better acoustics.

Dennis Kohl had a lot to celebrate last month. The Faith Lutheran church pastor celebrated his 10th anniversary with the church two weeks ago. A week before that was the dedication of his church's expanded building.

In spite of the rain, the service attracted a big crowd, including some of the church's former parishioners, both of its former pastors and the Rev. Harold Wimmer, the church's New England area bishop.

The addition of 3,440 square feet is a sign of the times and a growing community, Kohl said. When the congregation met for the first time, on the morning of Dec. 1, 1963, at Pike School, there were 75 worshippers. The congregation moved first to the Peabody House (which later burned down) on the Phillips Academy campus, then to the building at 360 S. Main St., which was half the size it is now. That was in September, 1967. Almost 20 years to the day later, the congregation, now numbered at 500, dedicated their enlarged building.

For the handful of people who have been parishioners since the congregation as founded, the bigger building was a dream come true, Kohl said. It wasn't the original intent of the congregation, which wanted another church building, but that, Kohl said, was an expensive dream.

As it was, the addition cost about $350,000, half of which came from the congregation. The rest of the financing came from a 30-year mortgage from First Essex Savings Bank in Lawrence. The church now has four new wings, one on each side of the building. Seating capacity in the Sanctuary, where the congregation gathers for Sunday service, has gone from 160 to 250. Office space has been added, along with extra rooms for the church's Sunday school and nurseries and a large room for assemblies.

That was what the congregation asked for, Kohl said, and that's what they got.

"We asked the congregation, 'What do you like about the building? Do you like the Sanctuary? What kinds of things do you think we need?'" Kohl said.

A building consultant from the Philadelphia branch office of the church's national organization, Lutheran Church in America, helped Kohl and his congregation assess their needs, present and future.

"With the growth that's going on in Andover, North Andover and the whole region really, it seemed right to expand," Kohl said.

But the new facility's feeling of roominess may be short-lived. "This was built to serve us for 20 years. After that time, we'll see where it goes. If we find worship service getting too crowded, we'll go back to two," Kohl said.

Starting this Sunday, Faith Lutheran Church parishioners will have one service, at 10:30 a.m., although they are able to attend a spoken service Saturday evenings at 5:30.

The new wings have changed the way the congregation worships, Kohl said. Architects from Kenneth F. Parry and Associates in Weymouth arched the altar space of

Ballard Vale Church Observes Communion Sunday

The Ballard Vale United Church (a United Methodist and United Church of Christ congregation) will join with Christian churches around the world in the annual observance of World Communion Sunday at this Sunday's 10:30 a.m. celebration of the Eucharist. This year's theme is "Sharing the Loaf-For a Just World." The Rev. Gary S. Cornell will preach on "Unity and Diversity." Members of the Older Elementary Church School class will have a communion breakfast with the pastor and discuss the meaning of World Communion Sunday. They will prepare the communion elements and participate in the service.

Breakfast will begin at 9 a.m. An adult class meets at 9:30 a.m. with church school for children at 10:30 a.m. A time for fellowship and light refreshment will follow the service.

Faith Lutheran

the Sanctuary to act like a megaphone so the voices of the choir and the church's pipe organ could be heard at their best.

"The quality of worship has been significantly improved," Kohl said. "It makes you feel like singing."

The additions may have improved worship, but they also improved recognition for the church, which is now shaped like a cross.

"One of the things the building consultant told us is that we should help identify the building, make it more like a church," Kohl said. "I had people come here to get X-rays. There used to be a radiology lab at 380 S. Main St., and people thought this might be it. A couple of people thought it was a bank."

A new sign, put up by a committee headed by former parishioner Terry Kittleson, thwarted would-be bankers and radiology patients, but the church wanted something more.

Kittleson ended up heading the building committee formed in August 1985 to plan the addition. When Kittleson, who worked closely with contractors and architects in his job locating shopping malls sites around the country, moved to Texas this summer, Bruce Cook took over as committee chairman.

The building committee, appointed by the congregation, interviewed architects until they decided on Parry, whom Cook said. The ground was officially broken Sept. 7, 1986, and contractors McCloud Brothers got to work—and didn't finish a moment too soon.

"The workers left Friday, Sept. 11 at 7 p.m.," Kohl said. "And the dedication service was Sunday the 13th. We spent Saturday cleaning the building."

Kohl, his secretary and the rest of the congregation had to learn to co-exist with the noise and the dust and other inconveniences of the construction.

"This summer I was in Philadelphia for took weeks, and when I got back, my office was gone," Kohl said. "I asked the workers, 'Where is my office?' They said, 'Your office is wherever you can find it.'"

The dust covered everything, and the congregation often found itself moved around—even outside—for worship service.

Faith Lutheran had some guidelines from the national church—rooms should be multi-purpose, and they must be accessible to the disabled.

Kohl says he's pleased with the building's new look. "I'm glad it's happened," he said. "It's the job of the church to grow."

The public is invited to the dedication of the Bozeman Organ with Simon Preston, above, world-renowned organist, at South Church, Andover, on Oct. 2 at 8 p.m. A free will offering will be taken and a reception will immediately follow the performance. For further information, contact the church office.

EVEN A BORN ATHLETE SHOULDN'T START WALKING IN SNEAKERS.

When learning to walk, an infant may actually be better off in leather-soled shoes form Stride Rite® than in sneakers. Because for one thing, the shoes have soft, flexible soles that are much less likely to 'catch' on rugs or tile. So they're less likely to cause a forward fall.* The sneakers come later, after a proper and healthy gait has been developed.

Stride Rite®

*According to results of a gait analysis study conducted at the University of Vermont by Nathaniel G. Cole, M.D. Stride Rite footwear is available in many sizes and widths and fitted by trained Stride Rite specialists.

Film Series Continues

The Andover Public Access Channel 11 continues to feature its weekly Potpourri Film series. During the week of September 28-October 1, a 30-minute program will feature a series of short, informational pieces on using a wok, dual career families, selecting plants for dark corners and buying computer furniture.

This series is always shown at the same times each week: Monday, 10 a.m.; Tuesday, 2 p.m.; Wednesday, 4 p.m. Thursday, 7 p.m. The Andover Cable TV Advisory Committee provides this series as a public service to the Town of Andover.

Yom Kippur Services Scheduled

Services for Yom Kippur, the day of Atonement, will be held by the Andover Jewish Fellowship at the Jewish Community Center, 580 Haverhill St., (Route 110) near Ames Street, Lawrence, at 10:30 a.m., October 4. A parking area is available; however, no babysitting will be provided.

All interested persons are invited to celebrate the closing of the High Holy Days. The service is a modern version and will be conducted by members of the Andover Jewish Fellowship.

May the Sacred Heart of Jesus

Be praised, adored and glorified throughout the whole world forever and ever Amen

Say this prayer 6 times a day for 9 days and your petition will be granted. No matter how difficult, don't forget to thank the Sacred Heart and promise to publish.

Yom Kippur Services At Andover Temple

Yom Kippur services at Temple Emanuel, Haggetts Pond Road, Andover, will begin Friday night, Oct. 2, with the Kol Nidre Prayer Services. Prayers will continue throughout Saturday, Oct. 3, as the Day of Atonement is observed.

The Day of Atonement is the most spiritual, revealing of the sacred days of the Jewish religious calendar. Some of the festivals observed in Judaism are of late Biblical date, but the Day of Atonement is described in detail in the Book of Leviticus and analyzed in the Book of Isaiah.

As in Biblical times, the children of Israel packed the temple courts to see the white-clothed priest go through the ritual of atonement, so to this day Jews throng to synagogues. This has gone on for 25 centuries while the world mood and the desires of human beings have undergone many transformations. Of all the festival in this ancient religion, not one has equalled this one for enduring power and continuous widespread appeal.

Each individual becomes personally involved through the 24-hour period of fasting. All who are able refrain from food and water and even younger children begin the fast and carry it on as long as they are able to. The Bible decrees that going without food from sundown to sundown is but one of the observances of Yom Kippur. The prayers and solemnity of the day senses of spirituality and fasting helps to understand the pangs of hunger which so many people experience day after day.

The service will be conducted by Rabbi Harry A. Roth, temple rabbi. Cantor Donn Rosensweig will chant the liturgy, accompanied by the Temple Emanuel Choir and Adam Labell will sound the Shofar at the conclusion of Yom Kippur.

Jack Hayman, temple president, has released the following schedule: Family Service Kol Nidre, Friday, Early Service (yellow ticket) 6 p.m. to 7:45 p.m.; Late Service (green ticket) 8:30 p.m. to 10:15 p.m. Yom Kippur, Saturday, Early Service (yellow ticket) 8:45 a.m. to 11:15 a.m.; Late Service (green ticket) 12 noon to 2:30 p.m. Mincha, Afternoon Service 4 p.m.; Neilah, Closing Service 5 p.m.; Sounding of Shofar 6 p.m. Children's Service, Saturday, Preschool sitting service provided; Grades 1 and 2, School Wing.

Church Fair Dates Set

Ballard Vale United Church has set the dates of Friday, Oct. 30, and Saturday, Oct. 31, for their annual craft and church fair. This year's theme is "Ballardvale Marketplace" and a variety of articles can be purchased from crafters from the surrounding area as well as from church tables which include baked goods, knitting, plants and attic treasures. The snack bar will run simultaneously.

Ruth Sharpe is fair chairperson; Joyce Robinson will chair the snack bar. Craft table rental and supervision is chaired by Mrs. Curtis Scholtz, 110 Ballardvale Road. Space is still available so crafters are invited to call her for applications.

Other chairpersons include Helen Webb and Ruth Batchelder, handiwork; Hazel Milligan, aprons; Edna McIntyre and Margaret Russlee, attic treasures; Ruth Mattheson and Mildred Davison, bakery; Winniefred Butler and Roberta Milligan, plants; and Diane Ely, write-in auction.

Fair hours are from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

Piano Duo At Andover

The music department of Phillips Academy will present the unique piano partnership of Jacqueline Gourdin and Juanita Tsu on Sunday, Oct. 4, in the Timken Room, Graves Hall, at 3 p.m. The concert is free and the public is invited.

Proclaimed to be the most exciting piano duo to appear on the concert scene in years, the duo combines four hands, one piano and two very distinctive personalities into a musical comradeship that has delighted its audiences since its first appearance in 1983.

Their repertoire is based in the romantic music of the 18th and 19th centuries and includes works by Rachmaninoff, Schubert, Debussy, Brahms and lighter pieces such as a Max Reger waltz, a Townsend rendition of American folk songs or Samuel Barber's incomparrable "Hesitation Tango."

Gourdin graduated from the Boston Conservatory of Music and was honored with the Whitney Medal for highest achievement. She was also awarded a French government fellowship for two years of study at L'Ecole Normale de Musique in Paris and completed a Master of Music degree in performance at the University of Lowell. She currently teaches at the University of Lowell and Boston Conservatory.

Tsu began her piano studies at the age of seven and entered the National Academy of Arts in Taiwan at the age of 15. While still in her early teens she exhibited the tenacity and strength that continued to characterize her playing. She came to the United States to study and received her B.M. from the Peabody Conservatory in 1968 and her M.M. from the New England Conservatory. She has continued to impress critics in the United States, Hong Kong, Taiwan and Canada. Tsu has taught at the New England Conservatory and conducted the Chinese Intercollegiate Choral Society of Boston and has made television and radio appearances. She currently teaches at the University of Lowell.

AHS Attendance Up Due To New Policy

By Lewis C. Howe

Attendance is way up at Andover High School since the opening of school, thanks to the tough new absence policy that mandates failure for students with five or more unexcused absences per term.

To be an "excused" absence, the student must present a doctor's note, if ill, or notify the school attendance office ahead of time in case of a college visit or religious holiday.

"The kids are learning responsibility," said Wil Hixon, Assistant Principal, who cited figures showing 98 percent attendance as evidence of the policy's impact. "We've been as low as five kids absent out of 1100 one day last week," Hixon commented.

Tardiness is also being controlled at Andover High. Numbers for a two-week period ending September 25 show an average of 19 students showing up late each day, compared with 60 tardies per day last year.

Shirley Tripoli, a hall monitor at AHS, said the school's tardy policy, which holds students arriving at school after 8 a.m. out of classes until their parents are notified, is "much stricter" than before.

"It all comes down to the accountability of the students," Tripoli stated, "they have to learn that if they were working they couldn't do it (be late)."

"The biggest concern were the tardies" Hixon noted. "So far, we haven't had a delay beyond 20 minutes in getting through to a parent of a tardy student."

In rare cases when a parent cannot be contacted immediately, Hixon said, the child is admitted to class after a message is left for the parent to call the school. "If a parent is out on the road or out of their office, we'll leave a message for them to call us when they can."

The high school administration imposed the rigid measures after attendance fell to 93 percent last year—an average of nearly 75 students out per day. So far this year, Hixon said, no more than 30-35 children have stayed out on any single day.

Parents have been largely supportive, Tripoli remarked. "Most parents are thrilled to know where their kids are, and to know we're on top of the situation." The school has "not had one complaint" about absences from parents, she added.

Tripoli said the school's policy is to call the home of an absent student in the evening following the day of absence, unless the student's parents contact the school first. Hixon said "parents have been very cooperative in calling in."

Judy Camasso, the Andover High Attendance Officer, said she still sees "kids trying to get around the policy" but on the whole the attendance situation "is not anywhere as bad as before."

"Some kids are so habitual. Kids who were sophomores last year might have had older siblings who were seniors, and they 'learned the ropes' of skipping school."

The new policy has fewer holes in it for potential Ferris Buellers, she added. "The parents are calling in, which is what we want them to do. The kids know they can't just go to Friendly's for coffee in the morning."

Camasso said she sees "one or two" students who could face potential trouble passing because of their attendance, but said "90 percent of the students are here because they want to be here, or at least because they know they need to be here."

Hixon said the administration will review the policy at the end of each term and make changes in it if necessary. "We're not inflexible," he commented, "We don't want to be unfair. People out in the community don't have faith that we'll use common sense on this. They think we'll just enforce everything by the words of the policy." An appeal process does exist, he added, for parents to question a decision made about their child's academic standing based on attendance.

"We will take a humanistic approach," Hixon said. "We know if a child has asthma and might be chronically absent. It's on file in the nurse's office. We don't need a doctor's note for something like that."

But, the Assistant Principal continued, "We do not plan to have the educational process slowed down by unnecessary absences. Seventy-five a day is extreme."

Camasso agreed. "It was really out of hand last year," she said, and while all the paperwork and parental visits increase her workload, "I prefer it to not knowing where the kids are."

AIDS Awareness Week

Public Forum To Be Held At Collins Center

By Lewis C. Howe

A public forum titled "AIDS—A Community Response" will be held Wednesday night at 7:30 in the Collins Center as the centerpiece of Andover's AIDS Awareness Week.

"We don't expect to give all the answers, but simply to raise issues and form a consensus in the community" about how to combat the disease, said Everett Penney, Director of Public Health.

Penney stated the idea for a week-long discussion of AIDS came about from a conversation between himself and Dr. Kenneth Seifert, Superintendent of Schools. "We felt there was very little discussion of this at the community level," Penney commented, "and we should try to educate the community."

One goal, the Public Health director said, is to "stimulate awareness that AIDS is not just happening in New York City or San Francisco. It's here in the Merrimack Valley and could be here in Andover."

As the disease spreads over time, he added, "we will find people we know, maybe in our own families, with AIDS."

AIDS Awareness Week will commence Monday night, with a two-hour discussion on "AIDS—The Virus." This forum will focus on the epidemiology and medical aspects of the disease, and will feature panelists from the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, the Andover Walk-In Medical Center, Lawrence General Hospital and Bon Secours Hospital.

The format will be phone-in, with the panel taking questions from callers live over WCCM-AM radio, and Heritage Cablevision.

The Wednesday night "Community Response" event will be more varied, Penney said. "This is being done to encourage broad-based community participation," he noted. Topics will range from AIDS education in schools to AIDS policies in the workplace, with an eye on building a town-wide policy consensus.

AIDS Awareness week will conclude with a Heritage Cablevision broadcast of "AIDS—The Victim" on Friday night, October 9. The program is described as "a round-table discussion intended to raise citizens' awareness and sensitivity to the plight of the AIDS patient." A victim of the disease is scheduled to discuss the economic, psychological and spiritual effects of AIDS on those afflicted. Church and civic leaders will join in the discussion.

In a letter to parents, Seifert urged residents to participate in AIDS week activities and "become more well informed on the subject."

"Putting the moral and social issues aside," Seifert said, "I believe this health problem could reach epidemic proportions. AIDS is a national health issue that will impact all of our lives. Education is one process that could greatly reduce the impact of this dreadful disease."

Zoning Board Meets Tonight

A request from John J. Kaitz of Newton to allow the construction of a warehouse for Andover developer Yvon Cormier's construction company tops the list of seven petitions for tonight's Board of Appeals meeting.

The ZBA will convene in the school committee conference room at 6:30 p.m. to hear Kaitz' proposal for the industrial storage building on a vacant lot fronted by Lowell Junction Road. The planned warehouse would be located within 300 feet of a residential dwelling.

The Board will also hear a petition from Park Street Development Trust, who are seeking permission to renovate their holdings at 32-34 Park St. for use as retail space.

Frank H. MacMillan, 20 Fosters

Pond Road, will ask the ZBA to allow him to remove his present home and rebuild a new house at the site. The new single-family dwelling would not meet minimum frontage or dimensional requirements for a public way.

John and Kathleen O'Brien will pre-

New England Telephone Given Town OK To Begin New Projects

By Lewis C. Howe

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has "pretty much completed" its backlog of unfinished street work in Andover and will be allowed to begin new projects soon, said Town Manager Kenneth Mahony.

"They've done most of the work down on River Road," Mahony said, "there's just a couple of manholes that need to be finished up."

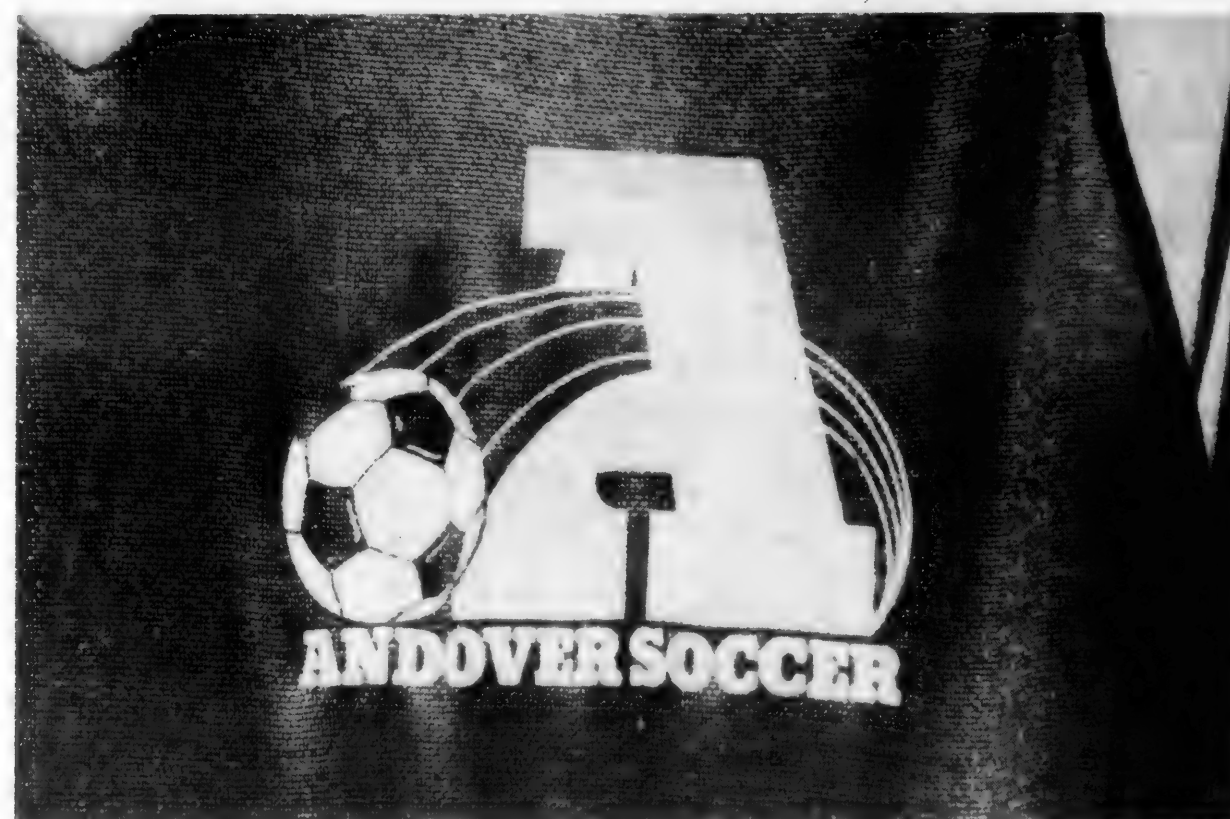

The issue arose again at Monday's Board of Selectmen's meeting when New England Telephone requested permission to lay cables and conduits on Railroad St. The town has been holding up such routine work subject to the phone company's satisfactory completion of previous projects, including work along Haverhill St. and River Road.

"We'll let them finish what they're doing, and then they can move ahead" with new excavation, Mahony commented.

In other business Monday night, the Town Meeting Improvement Study Subcommittee presented a proposal to reinstitute a fall Town Meeting. The present spring Town Meeting would be retained for matters involving finances, the group suggested, while an autumn session would deal with other civic matters like water, sewer and parking.

"The subcommittee said four consecutive days is too long to hold a Town Meeting," Mahony stated. "By dividing it up to two days in the fall and two in the spring, they believe it will be easier on people."

The town manager added this had been done years ago, but "people didn't turn up at fall town meetings, so it was done away with."

Early Saturday morning, some 1,200 kids get outdoors to play soccer. They practice and vie all over Andover—from the Phillips Academy campus to Lower Shawsheen field and are grouped according to their ages.

Senseless Vandalism

A week ago vandals took advantage of a rainy Saturday night when a security guard doesn't usually patrol the area, eleven picnic tables were destroyed at Andover Recreation Park. A portion of the damage is shown here, but scattered about the park shelter area were other tables broken into kindling wood. It is the worst damage inflicted on the park area in a couple of years.

Good-bye, Farewell —Amen

By Karen L. Day

When I was younger, my family moved every year or so, leaving friends and familiar surroundings behind. I hated it—swore I'd settle down in one place at first chance. Yet, after only 15 months in Andover, I feel stagnant. It's time for new challenges, faces and places.

So I've accepted a position on Wellesley's paper—the Townsman. (No relation.) I'll be covering the same beat—zoning, planning, and, (my personal favorite), affordable housing. Wellesley has just received four comp permit applications—one of which is 34 units-per-acre. (Count your blessings, Andover.) Such controversy is the life-blood of reporters.

Working at The Andover Townsman has been a great education and a lot of fun...

- My first day on the job as a professional reporter—I wrote a press release for the grand opening of a funeral parlor.

- Learning how to s-t-r-e-t-c-h a 10-inch news story to novel length—Creative writing at its best.

- Being threatened with my very first lawsuits—That's when I knew I was doing a good job.

- Trying to make sense of the chaos that is Andover's annual Town Meeting—I'm not sure it's operative government, but it sure was an amusing way to spend an evening.

- Lunching at Ernie's Country Kitchen down in Ballardvale—The next best thing to a home-cooked meal. (Corrie: I promise to forever finish my veggies before digging into the chocolate pudding.)

But what I will remember most is the people here...

- Special thanks to the Townsman folks, past and present, who have been the absolute greatest to work with:

Sue (Happy 40th, Oct. 19!), Bob, Lew, Melissa, Jerry, Carl, Carol, Pauline, Rita, Cheryl, Amber, Norma, Mike, Carol, Annette, Elaine, Helen, June, Gisel, Terry, Kip, Peter, Mike, Don and Olga.

- Thanks also to Andover's residents and town officials. Through either positive or negative relationships with each of you, I've become not only a better reporter, but a better person than I was when I came here:

The ZBA, Olivier Goulet, all the "affordable housing" developers, the Planning Board and Staff, George Danneman, the School Committee and Administration, Jean Salazar, the Selectmen, Margaret Cronin, Atty. Robert Zollner, Pat Schwing, Alfred Spattola, Judy Kellerer, Steve Feinberg, Ken Mahony, and the Townsman readership. (I hope I served you well.)

I've now removed the photos from my office wall, cleaned out my desk and loaded up the car. I'm really excited about the new challenges that await in Wellesley, but I'll miss this place anyway. I'll be keeping up with all of you through my Andover Townsman subscription, and maybe we can "do lunch" at Ernie's some time. For now, though, I have to say "good-bye."

Someone once told me that if another can say it better—"quote 'em." The only appropriate line I can think of comes from the final episode of M.A.S.H....

"Good-bye, Farewell—Amen."

Warriors In Comeback 28-12 Win

By Lewis C. Howe

The Andover High Golden Warriors will get a well-deserved week off following Saturday's gutsy 28-12 come-from-behind thrashing of Haverhill.

Three touchdown passes from Brandon McCue to John Perry, abetted by Devon Arsenault's yeomanlike ground attack (18 carries for 122 yards), capped what Coach Dick Collins referred to as "a well-balanced attack."

"This was what we were trying to accomplish offensively," Collins said. "We had 26 pass plays and 36 running plays. I like the threat of the pass to offset the run."

The Warriors overcame an early 12-0 deficit that resulted from some lackluster play on Andover's part. Haverhill controlled the first quarter, scoring first on a nine-yard run off a pitchout to workhorse halfback Jeff DiBurro. "He made a nice cut back inside on that play" Collins remarked.

The drive covered 51 yards in nine plays, eight of them carries for DiBurro, who would finish the half with 68 yards rushing. The extra point was blocked by Andover's Mike Marinaro.

The host Hillies doubled their score with 9:33 to go in the half when DiBurro caught a screen pass, found a seam on the right side of the Warrior defense, and scampered 56 yards down the left sideline for the score. The two-point conversion failed when Quarterback Brendon Skafas' pass fell incomplete in the end zone.

"Our defense was fooled on the screen play," Collins said afterward. "We didn't play that badly in the first half, but a personal foul penalty set up their first score, and they got a big play on the second."

A momentum shift occurred towards the end of the half when the Warriors mounted a sustained drive, hindered by penalties, to go 40 yards in 12 plays to cut the lead.

McCue's first strike to Perry, good for 4 yards and a score, brought Andover to life, and the first of four Andy Weiner PAT's made it a 12-7 contest at the half.

"What I told them at the half," Collins said, "was that we had made our extra point, and they hadn't. We were in the driver's seat. We just had to win the second half and forget the first part of the game and it would be our day."

Perhaps suitably inspired, the local gridders completely dominated the second half of the contest, holding the Hillies to an anemic 34 yards in total offense during the final two quarters. Haverhill's offense, good for 124 yards and two quick touchdowns in the first half, could only manage a single garbage-time first down on the final play of the game. "It took us a while to get going," said Marinaro, "but when we did it, it was no problem."

The key play came early in the third quarter, when, faced with a fourth down and 4 from their own 42, Haverhill faked a punt and run up the middle. Paul DeMarco met ballcarrier Craig Shirley at the 45, and the Golden Warriors were in business.

A 36-yard run by Arsenault gave Andover a first and goal, and three plays later Arsenault punched it over from the one to give the locals a lead they would never relinquish.

After the Hillies ran three plays for seven yards and punted, Andover took the ball on their own 27 and went 73 yards in 11 plays, controlling the ball for 6½ minutes. The blend of running and passing was never more apparent, with Arsenault carrying five times for 45 yards and Perry making three receptions for 15 more, including a two-yard catch to give Andover a nine-point lead.

When the Hillies' Dan Skafas fumbled the subsequent kickoff, Lou LoPresti fell on it at the Haverhill 29. On third down and four, McCue (16 for 24, 162 yards) found Perry on a fly pattern in the end zone for a 23-yard TD play to close out the scoring.

Coach Collins was thrilled with Perry's performance (ten receptions, 3 TD's). "I've had some great receivers here in 29 years," he recalled, "but I don't think I remember anybody ever having had that great a game."

The Golden Warriors do not play again until next Saturday, October 10, when they will host Billerica (0-2). Collins gave his players a day off this week, and let them rest over the weekend. The extended practice time "allows us to catch up on fundamentals and polish the things we should be doing but aren't."

The coach said the open date was necessary in order to work the November 21 match with North Andover into the schedule. "I'd rather be playing a game this weekend, but the rules say you can only play ten games, and we really wanted the date with North Andover."

Alan McAnally contributed to this report.

Exercise experts say a brisk 20-minute walk three to four times a week is a great start for anyone beginning an exercise program.

Lady Warriors Win Two, Drop One

By Jay Saunders

Andover started the week with a 6-0 shutout of Lowell.

Suzanne Gianelly notched the first goal with less than a minute gone when she burst through the Lowell defense on a feed from Shaleen Cassily. They pounded in two more goals on assists from Radulski and Cronin to make it 3-0 in the first ten minutes.

Krissie Carothers and Jodi Jangro were playing midfield solidly and beating Lowell to the ball.

Andover closed the half with two more scores as Erin Lynch converted a Cassily pass and midfielder Kathy Doran carried the ball through the Lowell midfield and hit from 20 yards out.

Lisa Berberian fed Sharon Petzold for the final tally, closing the score at 6-0.

In the week's second game Wakefield came at Andover hard and fast to dominate the early stages of play. Karen Del Sarto made an outstanding save off a Wakefield corner that rallied her teammates. The Lady Warriors scored first on a corner by Erin Lynch that was converted on an aggressive move by Kim Heseltine.

Wakefield increased the pressure on Andover's defense. Andover yielded the first goal and the 24-minute mark and was broken again within the next two minutes. Wakefield dominated the remainder of the first half as Andover was disorganized and plagued with errors.

Andover worked hard in the second half to reverse the tide, but allowed the third goal in the first 15 minutes. Down 3-1, Andover refused to give up. Brenna Cronin turned in an excellent defensive performance as she shut down Wakefield's All-Scholastic wing. The rest of the team pressed a tiring Wakefield team until the final whistle.

Coach Loschi complimented the girls for never giving up and noted that this was a learning experience, the team now knows they have to give 120 percent to win against tough opposition.

Andover rounded out the week with a 2-0 victory at Billerica. Neither team was able to mount an effective attack during the first half. The second half saw Andover attacking. Kim Heseltine got their first goal with the assist going to Gianelly. The Lady Warriors continued to attack well, changing the field and creating confusion in the Billerica defense. Kathy Doran closed the scoring when she neatly finished a cross from Cassily.

Coach Ken Najem's junior varsity went 3-0 for the week. Lowell was the first victim as Beth Cronin led the way with two goals while Debbie Donovan and Jenifer Sonntag each scored. Wakefield provided a tougher test, but outstanding defense led by Molly Corkery held them to one goal. Debbie Donovan scored Andover's first goal, assist to Michelle Di Stefano who got the final tally on a pass from Jodi Jangro. The J.V.'s defense held Billerica to just four shots on goal. Jen Sonntag and Mimi Bernardin provided the scoring with assists to Julie Mason and Tricia Doyle.

West Freshman Drop Opener

By Amy Burnham

West freshman field hockey team traveled to Methuen for the season-opener and were soundly defeated 8-1. After just one week of practice, the inexperienced Andover squad, led by only three returning veterans, had its hands full with an explosive Methuen offense.

Seeing action for the first time were Rebecca Goldman, Jennifer Brook and Jill Morgan at the halfback positions; Jen Enos, Sharon Wang, Amy Burnham and Michelle Bailey at fullback. On the wings for the first time in interscholastic action were Stacy Belisle and Holly Donohue.

Eighth-graders Julie Streeter at center halfback and Grace Perry at right inner had outstanding games. Both girls played aggressive games and showed great speed.

Melissa McCarthy, one of the returning veterans, played well in goal, but hopes the relief column will arrive for the next game.

Maureen Mitchell and Kerry Zaloga, the other veterans, teamed up early in the first half for Andover's lone score.

Vivian Chen did an outstanding job as score keeper and timer.

The team is far from calling it quits and are looking forward to breaking into the win column in the next game.

Swimmers Boast 2-0 Record

The Andover High School girls' varsity swim team boasts a 2-0 record two weeks into the season. They beat Billerica 114-55 at the Greater Lawrence Tech pool last Friday.

Sophomore Erika Suduiko was a triple winner, taking the 50 yard freestyle, the 100 yard backstroke and anchoring the winning 400 yard freestyle relay team with Kristen Hubbell, Tracey Pool and Laura Ghirardini.

Andover captured the 200 yard medley relay in an exciting race which had senior co-captain Johanna Hohn, Kate Robb, Pam Boucher and Lisa Fox even with Billerica until Fox blew past their anchor swimmer to give Andover a two-second victory. Dianne Schwarz, senior co-captain Lisa Herrmann, Karen Pedersen and Rebecca Poulo were third.

Boucher edged out a tough opponent in the 200 yard freestyle with a three-second improvement in her time. Hohn was third and freshman Allyson Bates, finishing sixth, showed an eight-second improvement in her time.

Pool took the 200 yard individual medley with Fox second. Suduiko won the 50 free with Hubbell in second by a touch and Pedersen nosed out of third on a judge's decision.

Andover's divers swept the event: Mia Kearins took first place; Alison Butland, second; Patty DelTrecco, third.

Ghirardini and Boucher were first and second in the 100 yard butterfly while Hubbell led Pool and Herrmann in the 100 yard freestyle, the only Andover sweep of the day.

Fox finished second in the 500 free with Hohn third and junior Eszter Vajda fourth with a 10-second time improvement. Ghirardini was second to Suduiko in the 100 yard backstroke with Bates fifth.

The 100 yard breaststroke was dead even until the last length when Robb pulled ahead for the victory. Brynn McGovern as fourth.

Hubbell, Pool, Ghirardini and Suduiko placed first in the 400 yard free relay, 20 seconds ahead of Billerica.

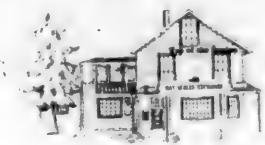

Girls Win

The Andover High School girls' cross country team opened their season with a win over Lawrence High School. Although almost half the team was missing through sickness, the remaining members proved equal to the challenge. The race was won by Diane Hinchey (1 point). Placing were Maria Dukas (3), Michelle Toth (4), Melissa Salazar (5), Linda Kelley (9) and Laura Ladd (12).

Andover Junior Football

Opening day of the Andover Junior Football League's 28th season last Sunday saw the Indian Ridge Raiders shutout the West Andover Redskins 14-0 and the defending champion Bancroft Dolphins whitewashed the Central Colts 19-0.

Raider noseguard John Ciruso put them ahead 2-0 to stay when he tackled the Redskin ball carrier in his own endzone for a safety. Quarterback Robert Derba scored on a 15-yard sprint around right end and Fullback Reiji Hayes scored on a 15-yard off-tackle run. Raiders Matt Landry, center, Kevin Carey, end, and Robert Ellis, quarterback, had good offensive games.

The Raiders were anchored by the solid play of linebackers Dan Mooney, Rodney Lumley, Mike Shepard and Justin Pierce and end Brian Roth.

Playing well were backfield performers Sal Denaro, Ian Timmons, Mike Trombly and Nate Roberts. Linebacker Adam Cohen, defensive ends Darius Sidebotham and John Iarrobino and noseguard Adam McHale turned in fine performances.

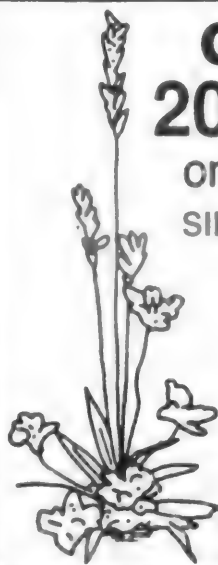

The Dolphins and Colts were tied 0-0 at the half, but the Dolphins pushed across 19 unanswered points in the third quarter to put the game out of reach. Touchdowns were registered by halfback Peter Daniels on a 10-yard burst up the middle; halfback Matt Trede on a five-yard dive through the line; and fullback Paul Allard on a 25-yard sweep around the left side. Todd Harris scored the extra point following Allard's touchdown. Lineman who opened the holes for the running backs were center Brendan Finneran, tackle Ted Ratyna and guards Adam Galaburda and Matt Wolcott. The Dolphin defense was spearheaded by linebackers Matt Lasstrina, John Shea, Chuck Mundo, Scott Henry and linemen Dan Trede and Justin Connors.

Central Colt standouts were backs Jim Landry, Peter O'Leary, Lucas Lavin, Matt Avery and linemen Jessie Ciccone, Sean O'Leary, Patrick Harding and Gene Doran. On defense the charge was led by linebackers Toby Guzowski and Mike Dalton, safety Brian Landry and linemen Mike Torrisi, Steve Dow, Brian Hough and William Dailey.

Booters Boost Record To 4-0-1

By Scott Frieze

The Andover boys' varsity soccer squad upped its record to 4-0-1 with wins over Lawrence, Lowell, Central Catholic and a tie against Billerica last Saturday night at Eugene Lovely Field.

Monday's home game against Lawrence was a makeup from the weekend due to inclement weather. Although the 8-0 outcome seemed to be proof that the Warriors dominated the game, it was tough at the start.

Andover's defense hung tough in the opening portion, keeping Andover in the game, due largely to a fine defensive play by Allan Boucher. A Lawrence attacker broke free at the mid-field line and had only Boucher to beat to have a free shot at goalie Eric Hammond. Boucher stuck with him and just above the 18 pushed the ball enough for the striker to lose stride and allow Allan to sneak in and clear the ball. This was as far as Lawrence came to scoring for minutes later Steve Napolitano knocked in the first of his two goals. Mike Mooney added a quick insurance goal as Rich Atkinson, Matt Pothier, Eric Jones, Scott Frieze and Paul Anderson added one goal apiece. Junior Hammond's first start wound up to be his first shutout.

Tuesday afternoon brought Andover to Lowell where they battled adverse weather conditions to win 5-1. Peter Kannam got Andover on the board in less than ten minutes into the first half off a corner kick by Tony Cioffi. Matt Pothier followed less than one minute later to make the score 2-0. Steve Napolitano scored on Cioffi's second assist in the game, just before the skies opened, soaking everything within one minute. Traction was so poor on the field by halftime, it became difficult to play. The rain let up after halftime and Eric Jones and Billy Matin upped the score to 4-0 with a goal apiece.

Lowell connected on a penalty shot with two minutes left in the game, bringing the final score to 5-1.

The Warriors were home two days later as Central Catholic, with its first-year soccer program, proceeded to lose 6-0 as goalie Hammond recorded his second shutout. Napolitano began the scoring at 13:16 of the first half on the first of two assists by Tom Cioffi. Paul Anderson brought the score to 2-0 for halftime. Pete Kannam opened the second half with his fifth goal of the year. Rich Atkinson raised the tally to 5-0 with two consecutive goals, the second of which was unassisted on a corner kick. Atkinson took the kick from the far corner, putting an inward spin on the ball with his right foot and hooked it, untouched, into the back corner of the goal. Napolitano closed the game with another goal, as Andover's defense, allowing just one goal thus far into the season, limited Central's lacking offense to just one shot all game.

In Saturday's game under the lights at the stadium, the Warriors battled back from an early 1-0 deficit to tie visiting Billerica 1-1. Andover's opponent gained control of the game with a goal just three minutes into the game. From that point on, Billerica bumped and knocked Andover all over the field, playing more physical than the Warriors. Andover was unable to put a succession of passes together and could not hold onto the ball to generate an offensive attack. Finally, at 37:41 in the first half, half-back Cioffi deflected striker Napolitano's cross from the right wing before it reached the center, redirecting it into the lower right corner of the net, tying the score at 1-1. Andover began the second half a bit stronger and with more intensity, but Billerica refused to let up. Both teams had opportunities to score, but neither team could find the back of the net.

tion the ZBA to okay the conversion of an in-law apartment into a two-family home at their 107 High St. residence.

Parm Development Corp. will propose converting a two-family dwelling at 52-54 Stevens St. to a four-family house. The proposed dwelling does not meet minimum setback requirements.

Ocean Properties North is seeking ZBA approval to erect a 40-foot, free-standing sign at the Marriott Hotel on Old River Road, and James L. and Janet G. Higgins are petitioning the board to allow improvements to their home at 167 Summer St.

On The Soccer Fields

By Meg Holmes

It was a perfect weekend for soccer. Traveling teams met their competition, and some games, postponed because of last weekend's rain, were made up. The in-town teams played a full schedule and results of the Under 14 and Under 12 divisions are included. Because of difficulty in finding volunteers to write the Under 10 summaries, results of that division will be reported until next week.

Under 16 Division I

Lightning 5 - Medford 2

Medford led 1-0 at the half, but Lightning had four goals in the second half: one by Chris Kyle from Chris Pothier; one by Jamie Damon, assisted by Mike Costello; one by Duncan Harris; and one by Mike Henry from a Harris pass. Medford scored again, but Henry blasted in an assist by Phil Meckel to end the game. BOW: Kevin Smith and Jeff Grace.

Saugus 1 - Cyclones 0

Both teams were evenly matched and played a strong defense. Saugus' only goal, tallied in the first half, proved to be the game winner. BOW: Wendy Germain and Lisa Allen.

Under 16 Division II

Wilmington 6 - Cosmos 1

Andover played a scrappy match against the more experienced Wilmington and Ryan Beal prevented a shutout when he booted in a pass from Robert Dawley. BOW: John Kulcsar and Tyler Maheu.

Under 14 Division I

Terminators 2 - Woburn 0

The Terminators controlled the game with John Shea scoring both goals, one on an assist from Scott Henry. BOW: Maurice Henderson, Greg Poor, Chris Zappala and David Gardner.

North Andover 3 - Terminators 0

The Terminators could not deny the shutout. BOW: Rejji Hayes, Brian Jones, John-Christopher Martin and goalie Andy Novelline.

Scorpions 7 - Waltham 1

The Andover Scorpions overpowered Waltham. Goals were made by Maureen Wade from Kara O'Handley; by Angela Chongris on a penalty kick; by Amy DiAdamo on Otavia Hollander's pass; by Chrissy Donovan on Amy Cassidy's assist; two tallies by Honor MacNaughton, one on a pass from O'Handley; and by Emily Kalkstein from MacNaughton. BOW: Krista Carlson and Amy Pierro.

Fury 2 - Wilmington 2

Tara Ryan scored on Kerry Hagerty's setup, but Wilmington kicked in the equalizer. During the second half Wilmington went ahead, but Nicole Angelos booted in another Hagerty pass for the well-deserved tie. BOW: Rachel Roberts, Marcia Gemmell and Michelle Morey.

Under 14 Division II

Westford 3 - Rockets 0

After a scoreless, evenly matched first half, Westford was able to gain the advantage. BOW: Nick Zammuto, John Bowman and Shawn Hadley.

Rockets 0 - Bedford 0

Although Andover dominated the first half, the Rockets could not score. The play was more balanced in the second half, but again Andover could not penetrate Bedford's defensive line. BOW: Chad Bowman, Andy Frishman and Brian Workman.

Under 12 Division I

Rowdies 2 - Stoneham 1

Andover's Kenny Oppenheim opened the scoring with Daniel Queen's assist but Stoneham earned the equalizer. Both teams struggled for the tie-breaker; finally, Matt Binda fired in the penalty kick that gave the Rowdies the winning edge. BOW: Brian Marshall, Rocky Tradd and David Poulo.

Burlington 3 - Mighty Dragons 0

Although evenly matched, Burlington made the most of their scoring opportunities to win. BOW: Kimberly Smith and Megan Selvitelli.

Mighty Dragons 1 - Melrose 1

This closely fought match brought out the best in Andover's defense and although behind 1-0 at the end of the half Karen Simeone tied the game on a pass from Rebecca Keaney. BOW: Cate Williamson.

Under 14 Division

By Noreen Austin

Pink Panthers 1 - Road Runners

The Pink Panthers dominated the first half with Elizabeth Pratt scoring the only goal of the game. BOW: Katie Hansbury, Chrissy DerAnanian and Heather McNemar (Road Runners) and Emily Girdwood, Amanda Holmes and Jennifer Orrick (Pink Panthers).

North Andover 1 - Busy Beavers 0

The game went scoreless until the final quarter when North Andover scored the only goal. BOW: Sara McCarthy, Diane D'Angelo and Heather Norton.

North Andover 5 - Tigers 0

North Andover dominated the first half with the Tigers warming up in the second half. North Andover took the game despite the Tigers' excellent goaltending. BOW: Christopher Sintros, Michael Todd and Andy Brown.

Bears 3 - Lions 1

The Lions scored in the first half with a goal by Joshua Payne, assisted by Matt D'Elia and Paul Lisiak. The Bears' Philip Birkby, assisted by Ryan Morgan, scored one goal in the first half. In the second half the Bears scored two goals, one by Richard Yost, assisted by Ryan Hanson, and the second by Michael O'Sullivan, assisted by Joseph Salvia. BOW: Craig Gigliotti, Nate Mullett and Michael Sullivan (Lions).

Under 12 Division

By Dori Mottola

Ferraris 4 - BMWs 2

Ferrari's Pat Sharkey scored in the early minutes of the fast-paced game. The BMWs' Matthew Ely made a goal with an assist by Seth Starr. The Ferrari's Brian Kwon won another point with the help of Mike Stein. Ely scored his second goal, assisted by Starr. Good passing and multiple interceptions highlighted the second quarter. A decisive penalty kick by Tallis Sidebotham pushed the Ferraris towards victory in the third quarter. The BMWs' David Salafia successfully defended many scoring attempts in the fourth quarter, but Stein overcame this obstacle for the Ferraris once again with the help of Glen Aeder. BOW: Andy Houston and Timmy Sullivan (BMWs) and Pulin Patel and Chris Silvestro (Ferraris).

Mercedes 2 - Jaguars 0

The Jaguars put up a strong defense in the first two quarters but then Jon Adams made a solo score for the Mercedes in the third quarter. He scored again in the fourth quarter with an assist from T.J. Morton for the well-deserved victory. BOW: P.J. Auffermann and Colin MacNaughton (Jaguars) and Jason Dalton, Sean Croteau and Tim Foley (Mercedes).

Thunderbirds 3 - Fieros 1

The Thunderbirds dominated the first quarter as Ryan Lisiak scored with an assist by Matt Bendron. These evenly matched teams battled as Andy Male scored for the Fieros with an assist from Kevin O'Brien. Lisiak made his second goal with the help of Jeff Shea. A great save by the Fieros' goalie kept the third quarter scoreless. Then Damien Turco stormed the Fieros' strong defense to score the Thunderbirds' final point with an assist by Shea. BOW: Mike Costello and Greg Litchfield (Fieros) and Aaron Currier, Bryan Kiberd and Edward Stewart (Thunderbirds).

Porsches 3 - Corvettes 1

The Porsches hustled for their first victory as Mike Yoder made an early goal with the help of Biff Hajj. They scored again as Hajj made the goal with Yoder assisting. The Corvettes' Ernest Dascoli scored in the third quarter with an assist by Scott Nicholson. Hajj polished off a shining game with an excellent goal into the corner. BOW: Jimmy Maragoglio and Peter Raddocckid (Corvettes) and Josh Goodman, David Muzin and Eric Pisick (Porsches).

Maseratis 3 - Lamborghinis 1

Pat Russo's long solo kick in the goal put the Maseratis on the road to victory. Lyle Morgan of the Lamborghinis scored with a shot from the left corner. The Maseratis won in the fourth quarter as Russo successfully made a penalty kick and Pat Walsh overcame a strong defense with a goal, assisted by David Kelmer. BOW: Ricky Crispo and Tom Fellago (Lamborghinis) and Joshua Hancock and Woody Sankar (Maseratis).

Reeboks 2 - Nikes 2

The Nikes' Jennifer Griffin was the first to put it in the net. Kim Brewer scored a break-away goal as the Nikes took an early lead. The Reeboks' Sarah Moss scored with the help of Emily Burritt and Elaine Licata in the second quarter. A good pass in the third quarter put the defending goalie out of position while Jessie Drench and Caroline Tully assisted Ann Marie Hussey make the tying goal for the Reeboks. BOW: Shannon Lee and Eveline Yang (Reeboks) and Debra Barry, Kristin Sousa and Kelly Mitchell (Nikes).

Pro-Cons 6 - Pumas 0

The Pro-Cons dominated their first game. First-quarter goals were made by Lenore Mullett and assisted by Buffy Sontag; then Sontag scored with the help of Mullett. Mullett scored for the third time this quarter with an able assist from Ellen Keaney. Melissa Farningletti added another to her team's score as did Keaney who tallied a solo goal. Sontag made her second point in the fourth quarter. BOW: Melissa Guerra and Joy Sandison (Pro-Cons).

Kaleidoscope Presents Spectacular Family Show

To kick off its seventh season, Kaleidoscope is sponsoring a "super seventh spectacular" on Saturday, Nov. 7, in the West Junior High School auditorium, Shawsheen Road, Andover.

An afternoon of entertainment is planned, beginning at 1 p.m. with Dario and Company, a magic and juggling show choreographed to guitar music. Dario Pittore, one of the Boston area's most popular showman, and his partner, Eddie G., have entertained Kaleidoscope audiences in past years to rave reviews. Children participate in the show, which delights the audience.

Following an intermission, during which door prizes are awarded and refreshments available, children and their parents are treated to a return engagement with nationally-known singer/songwriter Barry Louis Polisar. Polisar, from the Washington, D.C., area, performed two sold-out concerts here last year. Now the father of twins, he returns with new material as well as his all-time favorites. Hear the irreverent lyrics of "Don't Stick Your Finger up Your Nose," "They said, 'Eat the Broccoli'," "I Sneaked into the Kitchen in the Middle of the Night" and more.

Polisar, acclaimed by Newsweek magazine as one of the most popular children's entertainers in the country, has produced numerous tapes and albums which can be found in most libraries. They will be available for purchase after the show as will his books, which he'll autograph.

Proceeds from the show will benefit the Kaleidoscope scholarship fund and other Kaleidoscope activities. Tickets may be purchased by calling Janis Baron, the director, between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. weekdays or by writing Kaleidoscope, Box 506, Andover, Ma 01810. They will also be available at the door.

Lance Lee, a 1987 graduate of Andover High School, was awarded the Harry H. Koffman Scholarship by the Joseph Koffman Lodge of B'nai B'rith.

Lee will attend the University of California at Berkeley, where he plans to major in architecture.

Course For Electricians

Journeymen and master electricians renewing their New Hampshire and Massachusetts licenses can take a recertification course through the Northern Essex Community College Division of Continuing Education and Community Services at the Andover Extension Campus at the Greater Lawrence Technical School on River Road Tuesday and Thursday, Oct 6-20 and Dec. 1-15.

The required 15-hour course will cover the changes in the 1987 national electrical and Massachusetts code, review previous electrical exams on articles in the code, practical questions, electrical formulas and problems covering motors, transformers, lighting and receptacles.

The course will be taught by Tom Ciulla, master electrician, who holds Massachusetts and New Hampshire licenses.

A person traveling the 93 million miles to the sun would take 193 years if driving at 55 miles per hour.

means "we just have to move that much faster" in the development of the RFP and the transfer of ownership from the town to a suitable developer.

Despite the advances, many questions remain unanswered.

How much will the town wind up paying for the land?

What becomes of the 16 acres of Champy land over the Lawrence border? Can and will Andover try to acquire it for the project? Or will Lawrence take the land and enter into a joint affordable housing project with the town?

Will the town take the 13.76 acre Shetland parcel as well? It was originally proposed to have been a portion of land used in conjunction with the Champy parcel.

How does this affect the Andover Housing Partnership, which has already voted to hire the Cottonwood firm to develop the RFP for both the Andover Champy and Shetland parcels?

The answers to these questions will surely affect the future of the affordable housing initiative in Andover.

The 11th annual West Parish Craft Fair will be held Friday, Nov. 6, from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 7, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Down The Years

The Andover League of Women Voters will conduct a one-day fund drive Tuesday. All contributions will be used to assist the league in conducting its many programs at the local, state and national levels.

10 Years Ago — October 1977

Postal officials and selectmen met last night to further discuss the disposition of Andover's postal facilities. There were indications that the Ballardvale and Shawsheen substations would remain in operation.

Andover firefighters began picketing town hall Wednesday morning in an effort to explain their actions in the long standing contract dispute with the town.

Selectman Philip J. Salamone presented to his colleagues this week a method for recruiting and selecting a town manager for Andover. A select committee would be formed to implement the process.

Selectman Richard J. Bowen informed the board Monday that he may be able to find some funds for replacement of windows in town hall.

The Recreation Community Schools Committee, keeping with its new policy of holding meetings in the various community schools, will hold an open meeting at Shawsheen School next Tuesday on the Sacred Heart Capital Budget project.

Gillette Employees Race For U.F.

Employees of the Gillette Company, Andover Manufacturing Center, participated in a four-mile road race Friday, Sept. 25, to kick-off their campaign for the Merrimack Valley United Fund. The company closed operations during the race so their 700 employees could observe the finish line and cheer the winners.

Two groups ran, one made up of regular marathon runners and the other comprised of "fun runners."

Bob Derrah, Jr., winner of the race, received a $600 check from Gillette to be awarded to the Valley Fund agency of his choice. He selected the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children to receive the check. Runner-up Dolly Le Maine chose the Samaritans to receive the $400 check she won.

PORSCHE TECHNICIANS PERFORMANCE PROFESSIONALS

DRIVING YOUR PORSCHE

"Porsche deserves to be taken care of by honor students."

In order to work on a Porsche, it is not enough to know the car a little; you have to know the car! Porsche thinks that training is important, so important that Porsche technicians have to come to training in regular intervals. The curriculum is very extensive. From "A" like Automatik (automatic) to "Z" like Zundung (ignition).

Participation in Porsche schools is limited to technicians from authorized Porsche dealers only.

Another good reason to let no one else touch your car.

A.E. Park Technicians have the tools, training and talent to maintain pure, exhilarating driving excitement.

BUSINESS PROFILES

Bob Salamanca is ready to serve you.

Robert F. Salamanca Painting & Decorating, Inc.

Bob Salamanca knew exactly what he wanted after completing vocational school in Lawrence. He wanted his own business. As we all know, these things don't happen overnight. It took Bob seven years working with another contractor before he was to realize his goal.

In 1984, Bob and his wife Debbie were on their way. They recall their first year of business as a whirlwind of activity with Bob wearing a different "hat" every few hours of the day. He wrote the advertising copy, bid the jobs, painted and hung the wallpaper.

Bob Salamanca offers his customers interior and exterior painting and wall covering for residential, commercial and industrial purposes. This thriving company will provide you with quality work that will bring you back as repeat clients, for years to come.

When you call Robert F. Salamanca Painting & Decorating, Inc., you can expect the following:

- an appointment set up for your mutual convenience
 - measurement of the area requiring work
 - a written estimate detailing what they will do, the material they will use and the quantity required
 - an estimate of time, to complete the job
- Robert F. Salamanca Painting & Decorating, Inc. has been building a long list of satisfied customers which includes Ad-Tec, Zayre, Ryder and Antiquarian Books. Bob emphasizes that no job is too big or too small. They will cover any job from your home to your business, and they are fully insured for your protection.

Robert F. Salamanca Painting & Decorating, Inc. has expanded their staff to meet the demands of their growing clientele. However, you will still receive that personal touch because everyone at Robert F. Salamanca Painting & Decorating, Inc., cares. Tel. 688-4285.

Relaxing atmosphere of Salon 1060
Salon 1060: A Bit of Newbury Street

There was a time, one thought one had to travel to Boston's Newbury Street in order to acquire that sheik, urban coiffure....but, no longer. A bit of Newbury Street has come to the Andovers.

May 1, 1987 was opening day for Salon 1060, 1060 Osgood St., Rte. 125, North Andover for owners Leslie Baratta and Paul Costa. Having spent nine years as proprietor of her own beauty salon in Somerville, South Carolina, native New Englander Leslie decided to return home. Whereas, Paul wanted to open a second salon (he is owner of Paul Kenneth's in Woburn, MA) and Leslie wanted to re-establish herself in the New England area, the life-long friends joined forces with Salon 1060 as the result.

And, what a result! Plush rose carpeting, white walls, arched windows, mirrors galore and greenery to soften the atmosphere. Now, relax and let Paul or Leslie demonstrate their talents. They specialize in styling, coloring and permant waving - whatever your desire.

The Matrix Synergizing System of hair care is used exclusively by Salon 1060. Matrix Essentials has achieved a major breakthrough in hair care chemistry with the development of the Alphatone Complex. The Matrix Synergized System is a complete professional line of service and home care maintenance products designed to give you healthy-looking, shining hair. If your hair has been damaged by too much summer sun, by a perm or over tinting or bleaching, ask about the Matrix 5+ Protopak. It is a deep penetrating heat treatment for hair that has lost its strength, elasticity and moisture balance.

Jackie McCann is on hand daily, to give you the finishing touches of a manucure or the relaxing, self-indulgence of a pedicure. Call today for an appointment at 686-4242 or 686-5007. Open M-W, 9-5, Th. 9-8, Fri. 9-6, Sat. 9-4.

The

ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

Faire

Free Christian

The gastronomical splendors of the Renaissance are re-created every weekend through November 1 from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. at King Richard's Faire in South Carver.

Whether munching on a barbecued turkey leg while cheering for mounted knights engaged in a joust, sipping ale as a soothsayer tells your fortune or devouring a queen's strawberry shortcake before joining a reeling romp with a band of gypsies.

Free Christian Church, 31 Elm St., will hold a fair Saturday, Nov. 7, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Many popular tables will be featured: cookbooks, country store, arts, crafts and Christmas items, bakery. Coffee, doughnuts and muffins will be available in the morning; there'll be a snack bar at noon and tea at 2 p.m. in the church parlor.

Etta Chadwick will be hostess. Priscilla Russell and Carole Bernard are co-chairmen.

Exchange Club To Induct Officers

The Exchange Club of the Andovers will hold its annual Induction of Officers Night at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Sutton Street, North Andover, on Tuesday, Nov. 22, at 7 p.m. This year's officers includes Ron Landry, president; Tony Longo, president-elect; Jeff Donahue, treasurer; and Bill Tomkiewicz, secretary.

Exchange is the oldest service organization in the country, dedicating its efforts to the youth of the nation. The Exchange Club of the Andovers has presented awards and scholarships to several deserving students of both communities. The club has also instituted a child identification program for the lower elementary students which is implemented through the efforts of the North Andover Police Department. This year the club hopes to begin a program of recognition for students in grades 7 and 8. The program is known as the Young Citizenship Award. Each year the club helps support, through donations, approximately 30 child abuse prevention centers across the nation.

Anyone living or working in North Andover or Andover who would like to be considered for membership should contact Bill Tomkiewicz for an application. The Exchange Club of the Andovers meets on the second and fourth Tuesday of the month at the Knights of Columbus Hall in North Andover.

REAL ESTATE GUIDELINES

Realty U.S.A.
Schrüender Real Estate

SPRUCING UP YOUR HOME

When a house goes on the market, it's important that it "show well". A house that looks well cared for inside and out has extra buyer appeal and is more likely to sell quickly for top dollar.

Your professional Realtor can provide valuable advice on cost-effective ways to make your home most attractive. He or she can start outside, and go with you through decorating hints that will help your home sell. There may be plumbing or other maintenance items that should be fixed before the home is shown. If you are considering any home improvements that you think will help, discuss them with your agent. A fresh coat of neutral paint and refinished floors, for example, could add thousands of dollars to your sales price. On the other hand, new wall paper or wall-to-wall carpeting that reflect your personal taste might appeal to fewer buyers. There are also many small touches, like house plants or a new shower curtain, that can help a good house look even better.

If there's a move in your future, the real estate professionals at Realty USA / Schrüender Real Estate are ready to serve you. Call us at 685-5000 or drop by our offices at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.

REALTOR

"CAVEAT EMPTOR"? - NOT TODAY

If you buy an old overcoat in a used clothing store and the sales slip states "Sold As-Is", you've bought it moth holes and all, right? Well, maybe. This legal principle of "caveat emptor" (let the buyer beware) is dead or dying. We are living in an age of consumerism and it's hard to find a court that won't favor the buyer in a dispute. In fact, consumer groups and many government agencies are taking the posture that the seller must disclose everything.

If you have a problem in your home, don't mask it. A common example is the homeowner who spray paints a ceiling to cover water stains caused by a leaking roof. If you have a problem that you don't intend to correct, be candid about it. Sure, some people will be turned off by it, but the serious buyer will be understanding about a problem openly displayed. Usually, they will discount the price by far less than the cost of repair...and a whole lot less than a day in court would cost.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in on THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Pouchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

CLEARWATER BEACH FLORIDA FOUR UNIT CONDOMINIUM

Five years ago my family and I retired to Clearwater, Florida. After 15 years in the Real Estate business in Tewksbury and the Andover area, we are now living in Clearwater but have always dreamed of owning a weekend retreat on the beach. The problem was that all the luxury units were in highrises with too many rules and high condo fees. I have spent 5 years looking for a place where I could build my own building. Finally, after extensive research I bought 2 homes from an estate directly on Clearwater Beach abutting the largest hotel on the West Coast of Florida, Holiday Inn, Surfside. Believeably just one block from restaurants, banks and grocery stores. While being directly on the West Coast's finest beach I demolished the homes and now have under construction a four unit building consisting of 4 large 3 bedroom, 3 bath units with over 30 ft. great rooms facing the gulf. I am going to keep 2 units for myself and sell 2 units. We enjoy people from New England so before we put them on the Florida market, we are offering them to the people from the Tewksbury and Andover area. We are selling these top quality condos for $325,000 each. If you have any questions, please call me collect.

Mountain Laurels at Sky Meadow.

Live on Top of the World.

Imagine starting each day with the four-season prism of New Hampshire's southern hills filling your entire horizon. The fresh air. Nature's sounds. A cleansing of your spirit with every balconied view.

Mountain Laurels at Sky Meadow is ready for you. Spectacular, single-level and penthouse condominium living. Breathtaking floor plans and Rock-of-Gibraltar construction. High ceilings, low maintenance. Garage parking and generous private storage areas.

On top of Nashua's highest summit, Mountain Laurels is that special place you've been seeking. But it won't be available long. It's nestled between the first green and 18th tee of a golf course already heralded as one of the most beautiful in New England.

Sky Meadow is a 20-minute drive up Rte. 3 from the Burlington Mall to Nashua, recently ranked the best city in the U.S. by MONEY Magazine. Prices start in the mid $100's. Come buy now. Selection will never be greater. The values will never be more affordable.

The Key to Results in Real Estate

The ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

Andover Among Many Sites Being Considered By Emerson

By Lewis C. Howe

Emerson College, a 2,500-student institution specializing in communications, has been trying to relocate its campus from Boston an 85-acre site on the Andover/Lawrence line since November of 1985. Last week, after nearly two years of delays due to litigation by owners of land slated for the project, college president Allen E. Koenig announced this option was no longer being pursued.

Since then, Emerson officials report "15 to 20" inquiries have been received from developers and politicians in eastern Massachusetts and southern New Hampshire who want the college to examine various properties as potential new campus locations.

Harry Morgan, Vice President for New Campus Development, said "the ballgame's pretty open right now," adding "we're not ruling any single site out at this time." Morgan said at least one of the inquiries had come from Andover, and numerous preliminary offers have emanated from the Merrimack Valley.

Kenneth Mahony, Andover Town Manager, said this week "If (Emerson) wants to come here we'll welcome them, but we're not doing any negotiations."

Steve Colyer, town physical planner, reiterated that the proposal for Emerson had not originated at Andover town hall, but he noted "anybody can talk to anybody. A developer can approach the school without going to us."

Colyer said he knows of no single site in town large enough to house the college and still provide water and sewer services to a proposed campus. "It would be an attractive thing to have in town," he remarked, "but there's no parcel big enough. What you'd have to get is some person who can string together several parcels to make something workable."

Emerson spokesman William Harrold said the school is not actively pursuing any single site at this time. "We're still sort of trying to get over Lawrence before we get going on something else." Harrold commented there is "a very slim chance" the college will still wind up at the Lawrence/Andover site if settlements can be reached between the city of Lawrence and the four landowners (Ryder Truck, Harold Brooks, Wilfred Cyr Trust and the Lawrence Lodge of Elks) before October 23.

On that date, Emerson's Board of Trustees will hear Koenig's final recommendation as to where the school should move, if anywhere.

"We're not optimistic on Lawrence" Harrold said, adding the school has withdrawn its $6 million investment to assist the city in the project, which is part of the Lawrence Riverfront Park Urban Renewal Plan.

Morgan listed several qualifications for a viable contingency campus site. "The size would have to be suitable," he said, pointing out that previously developed sites needn't be as large as undeveloped parcels of land "where we'd build from scratch." He stated "there are many possible scenarios, but the site should have adequate transportation to Boston, and other amenities" such as a nearby shopping or cultural district. "This gets you more points" he quipped.

Mahony said he knows of only a few sites in Andover, "outside of a couple pig farms," that would be suitable for the college. "They looked at the Christian Formation Center," Mahony recalled, "but I believe Central Catholic High School owns that."

Emerson also made an $8.5 million offer for the 86-acre Champy-Shetland properties last summer, but Colyer said "that was quickly shot down." Andover selectmen voted to take the land by eminent domain this week for use as affordable housing.

Since announcing plans to move from its campus, currently situated in 20 buildings in Boston's Back Bay, Emerson College has examined more than 60 sites from Bedford to Beverly, from Lowell to Lawrence, from Emmanuel College to Endicott College, and from Milton to Methuen. Now, with just three weeks until a final decision, school officials say they are still accepting any serious offers for a new campus location.

School Board In Session Tuesday

The school committee will meet on Tuesday, Oct. 6, at 7:30 in the school committee conference room.
